Investigating Fire That Destroyed ChurchTo Fight Moths in New England

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The state and local police have begun an investigation of the fire which yesterday destroyed the church of the Sacred Heart, the Catholic mission church in the Pleasant Hills district of Saugus. The church is a part of the Maplewood parish, the pastor of which is the Rev. F. J. Holland of Malden, and was a small building on Adams avenue.

About 8.30 yesterday morning William Eckland gave the alarm. By the time the firemen reached the scene the flames were leaping out at the roof. Those who first reached the building discovered that the rear door had been forced open.

One theory is that tramps spent the night in the church, and another that thieves entered to steal vestments and upon leaving set fire to conceal the thefts. The Rev. Edward C. Mitchell, assistant pastor, one of the first to arrive, said he believed the fire was incendiary. Chief of Police Thompson of Saugus said last night there was some suspicion that the church might have been set afire by some one having a spite against it.

The fire made good headway, burned the roof, destroyed all of the interior, and by noon only the walls were left standing.

The total loss, including the destruction of the altar, ornaments and vestments, is estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000. The church of the Sacred Heart was built 10 years ago.

$80,000 DAMAGE

Caused by Fire in Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26.—The Richardson building at the corner of Broad street and Viaduct was destroyed by fire early today at a loss of about $30,000. As the flames for a while threatened to spread to an adjoining structure, a general alarm was sounded calling out the entire fire fighting apparatus of the city. The firemen by hard work, however, were able to check the flames. The building was occupied by the Hovver-Hobart Co., dealers in office supplies and stationery, whose stock was destroyed, but was covered by $10,000 insurance. E. W. Allen & Co., printers, also sustained a considerable loss.

BILLERICA MAN

NEARLY SUFFOCATED BY FUMES
OF COAL GAS

Owen Murningham, a man about 70 years of age, had a narrow escape from being suffocated by fumes of coal gas escaping from a stove in the kitchen of his home in Pollard street, North Billerica, yesterday. The old man was found unconscious on a sofa in the kitchen by Jeremiah O'Brien when the latter called at the house to get some milk.

Murningham was hurried to St. John's hospital in Lowell and is now resting comfortably.

Mr. Murningham lives alone and it is thought that Sunday night after putting some coal on the stove he lay down on the sofa in the kitchen and fell asleep. The stove lids were tipped and undoubtedly the gaseous fumes escaping through the top of the stove overcame the man while he was asleep. But for the timely arrival of Mr. O'Brien, Murningham would, in all probability, have been suffocated.

TWO MEN KILLED

Many Injured as a Result of Explosion in a Mine

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Two men are dead and twenty others were injured as the result of three gas explosions in the Roswell mine of the United Coal Co., Somerset county, last night and early today. The men were members of an investigating party that had entered the mine to make an inspection of suspicious gas traces before allowing the miners to go to work.

The dead are: Supt. J. C. LOGAN, and Andrew STONCKI.

Among the supposed dead is Assistant Supt. George Morris.

Until early today signals were heard from the imprisoned men. At daylight, however, the signals ceased and it was believed that all the men had come under the influence of the deadly after-damp.

About 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a small explosion occurred in the mine and it was decided to make a thorough inspection. This was in charge of Supt. Logan and twenty-one men volunteered for the dangerous work. They entered the mine shortly after five o'clock and while they were in the mine a second and third explosion occurred about 6 o'clock. These explosions tore down great quantities of coal, etc., completely preventing the men from reaching the outside. State Mine Inspector Lowther was soon at the scene and from the miners who had not been allowed to work resulting shifts were quickly turned.

JIMMY GARDNER

Knocked Out Opponent
in First Round

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Jimmy Gardner of Lowell, Mass., picked a ripe fruit from the lemon tree last night at the Washington sporting club by stopping Harry Mansfield of England in just two minutes and twenty seconds of the first round. There was nothing to the bout but Gardner. The Briton never had a chance with him. He was outclassed from the start. Gardner, walloping home rights and lefts to the body before the knockout came in a manner which soon convinced the spectators that Mansfield was not due to stay very long before the Lowell cyclone.

Mansfield tried to do something in the way of earning his coin by making a few feeble attempts to swap punches with the Lowell man, but as Gardner's swats carried about twice as much strength and were directed at spots which were all too dangerous on the Briton's body, Mansfield never really had a chance in any of the exchanges.

Gardner, after landing heavily to body, took a swing to the face from Mansfield's right, but quickly shot his right to the jaw when the referee broke the men, and Mansfield went to the floor for the full count. The blow was a short hook to the jaw and ended the bout then and there.

The going was over too quickly to show just what kind of form Gardner is in as he did not have to exert himself to win.

DELMONT WON

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Al Delmont of Medford, Mass., outpointed Kid Duffene of Lowell 34-26, here last night in a 10-round bout before the American A. A. Both men finished in good condition, but Delmont had Duffene worried throughout with stiff right and left jabs to the nose. Only in the last two rounds did the Lewiston boy show that he was any match for Delmont.

In the first round Duffene slipped to his knees, and before the round closed he was bleeding from the nose. The fight itself was slower than some of the preliminaries, but both boys showed clever work in covering and infighting.

The first eight rounds were all Delmont's and it looked as though he would put his man away in a little while, but Duffene took his punishment calmly and was stronger in the ninth than in the start.

Delmont was clearly the better of the two, and the men in attendance were of the unanimous opinion that he could have secured a knockout in a few more rounds, as he was the better ring general of the two, keeping a watchful eye at all stages of the smallest opening.

JEFFRIES TO FIGHT JOHNSON

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Jeffries will fight Jack Johnson at the end of his theatrical tour of the country, unless the big fellow changes his mind, which is not probable, said Ralph Pincus, manager of Jeffries' theatrical interests yesterday. Jeffries has told him he would take on Johnson if he could get into condition, said Pincus.

He has said this trip will be his last into condition if anything would, and he thinks, like everybody else, that he is getting better every day. Every week he will increase work until he becomes hardened.

SALEM, Jan. 26.—The Young Men's A. C. of Salem held forth last evening in a series of boxing exhibitions which was largely attended. In the main bout of eight rounds Young Clark of Lowell won over George Murray of Lynn getting the referee's decision after a tame bout.

In the semi-annual bout of six rounds Tommie Kirk of Lynn and Young Carroll of Beverly looked up, but were stopped in the fourth round, Carroll getting the award. In the curtain raiser Young Delaney of Boston won over Young Schwartz of Somerville in the second round in a four-round attempt.

The Carlistes and Chipewas of the Indian League played a game on the Commons alley last night, but when the points are taken into consideration the Carlistes were victorious inasmuch as they won the first two strings. The scores:

Will Regulate the Stomach

Making Indigestion Vanish

Does it ever occur to you how busy that little stomach of yours is? It actually only holds three pints, though in one year you force it to take in 2500 pounds of material, digest it and prepare it for assimilation to the blood. Do you wonder at the number of cases of Indigestion and Stomach trouble? You crowd it with stakes and gastritis, irritate its juices with spices and acids and expect this little four-ounce mill to do its work.

Is there any wonder that your food passes undigested, or lays like a lump of lead in the stomach? That every thing you eat turns to acid, Stomach gas and Stomach poison, putrefying the intestines and digestive canals, causing Biliousness, Headaches, Nausea and Indigestion, Heartburn, Dizziness, Breath, constipation and other more dangerous symptoms?

Call your disease what you will—Indigestion, Gastritis, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of Stomach, etc.—you know the real name, the real disease is fermentation of the food you eat—a sour Stomach, which belches gas and eructs undigested food or causes a feeling of nausea and misery.

All these miseries vanish promptly when you stop this food fermentation. Take fifty cents to your Pharmacist for a case of Peppermint Diaperin. Eat a triangle, and five minutes later your Stomach will do what a healthy Stomach should—that is, turn every bite you eat into bodily nourishment and without you realizing that you have a Stomach. One triangle will digest all the food you eat without the aid of the stomach, because it contains just the elements found in a good, strong, healthy stomach.

BOY ADMITS CRIME BARD OF SCOTLAND

Says That He Killed Aged Woman in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Jan. 26.—Ambrose Van Buskirk, a boy of 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin S. Van Buskirk of 68 Osgood street, confessed yesterday that he struck the blows which caused the death of Mrs. Catherine Gray, who died yesterday at the General Hospital. Mrs. Gray was found unconscious on the floor of her store on Albany street on Saturday morning, her skull crushed in, apparently by blows from a heavy club which lay beside her.

The boy's confession came after his arrest on suspicion by the police and during his examination by the "third degree" in the presence of Assistant Marshal Vose and Inspectors Kelleher and Woodcock. Van Buskirk told the officers that he went into the store and asked Mrs. Gray for a piece of tobacco. Then he said he asked the club and struck her over the head and she fell. She tried to rise and he struck her again. A third time she tried to rise and again the club fell. Then she lay still.

Van Buskirk says he then went behind the counter, opened the money drawer and stole some money. He then stole a dozen cakes. Next he went into the rear room and, taking a sofa pillow, put it under Mrs. Gray's head. Then he left.

The club, which Van Buskirk says he cut from a tree, laid on the desk at the police station on Saturday, and close to it a note which said Ambrose Van Buskirk, a boy of 15, had been missing from home since Wednesday. On one end of the club the police had deciphered the letters K. I. R. K. Other marks were noted which satisfied Assistant Marshal Vose that other letters had been there. The boy was found and the confession followed after three hours of searching questioning.

Van Buskirk, it was found, had spent his time with a boy named Roberts at 507 Essex street, a lodging house. Roberts was taken to the station house and questioned, but he answered all questions in a satisfactory manner and was allowed to go.

Roberts, who lives at 507 Essex street, was re-arrested last night, and is now lodged in a cell at police headquarters, for arraignment today.

Medical Examiner Dr. Geo. W. Dow has filed with City Marshal Fox a sealed finding after his autopsy on the body of Mrs. Gray.

Van Buskirk told the police Roberts suggested the deed and that they had planned to make the attack on Mrs. Gray Friday night, but seeing someone in the store, decided to wait until Saturday. Roberts, however, failed to show up, so Van Buskirk says he decided to do the deed alone.

Van Buskirk's face was badly swollen from frost bite and irritation. He had been engaged with his father earlier in the week cutting hownail moth nests. The Van Buskirk family formerly lived in North Andover and were forced to leave because of the biting proclivities of Ambrose. They moved to State street, South Lawrence, where suspicion pointed to the lad when some money was missed. Several times he had run away from home, and little surprise was felt by those who knew of his former delinquency when they heard of his latest adventure.

Two basketball games are scheduled for Thursday night, the Alphas playing the strong Reading second team. Next Monday evening will be North Billerica night when the Men's club and Phi-Alpha D club will play basketball in the gymnasium.

BOY INJURED

Frank Donnelly, a nine-year-old boy, fell on the ice yesterday afternoon and injured one of his legs. The wound was treated at the Lowell hospital, where four stitches were taken in the wound.

Celebration in His Honor by Clan Grant

In Grafton hall, last night, the glorified several changes which he had in view which would redound to the good of the municipality.

Past Chief Caddell
Special mention should be made of the "Address to the Huggis" by Past Chief Peter Caddell, although Past Chief Alex Ray was down on the program for this duty, but was unavoidably absent. However, Past Chief Caddell performed this function in a manner that earned for him hearty and prolonged applause. The decorations were confined to the portion of the hall where the distinguished guests of the evening were seated, while in a prominent position was a large portrait of the immortal Scottish bard.

Following the banquet there was general dancing and among the terpsichorean pleasures were typical dances of Bonnie Scotland which gave enjoyment for a few hours and after the midnight hour found everybody just in the mood to appreciate the following verse so familiar to sons and daughters of Scotland:

"It is the moon, I ken her horn,
That's blinkin' in the lift sae hie;
She shines sae bright to wyle us hame,
But by my sooth, she'll wait a wee!
We are na fow, we're nae that fow,
But just a drapple in our eye.
The cock may crow, the day may daw,
An' ay we'll taste the barley bree."
The success of the affair was due to the following efficient committee of arrangements:

Reception committee—Chief John H. Tait, Past Chief Peter Caddell, Past Chief Alex Ray, Gavin Holt, A. J. W. Breig, John Breckenridge, Chas. Kitchin, floor director, James McCall, assistant, Thomson Ritchie; aids, Robert Ritchie, Geo. McLean, William Brown, Samuel Beattie, William Ritchie, Walter McLean.

Committee on arrangements—Chairman and toastmaster, Chief John H. Tait; secretary, Thomson Ritchie; treasurer, David McFadyen; James McCall, James McLellan, James McLellan, Walter McFadyen.

Ladies' committee—Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. McLaren, Mrs. McFadyen.

The following are officers of Clan Grant for the ensuing year: Chief, John H. Tait; taitist, James W. McCall; past chief, Alex Ray; chaplain, Geo. E. McLean; financial secretary, Daniel A. McFadyen; treasurer, John Breckenridge; recording secretary, Thomson T. Ritchie; senior benchman, William Ritchie; junior benchman, Walter McLean; senechal, Samuel Beattie; warden, John Livingston; sentinel, Peter Stevenson; physician, Dr. Adam E. Shaw.

The principal address of the evening was by Rev. Dr. Martin, pastor of the Kirk Street Congregational church, who was introduced by Chief Tait in fitting words and who parenthetically stated that the popular clergyman was half Scotch.

Dr. Martin was warmly applauded and declared himself a conglomeration of Irish and Scotch on his father's side and Quaker on his mother's side. After several brilliant sallies at the characteristics of each nationality alluded to in his ancestral composition, Dr. Martin convulsed his listeners by giving humorous reminiscences of scenes and incidents of his travels in Scotland, and particularly of the birthplace of the poet, Burns. Referring to the mother of Burns being named Agnes Brown, he turned to Mayor Brown and brought forth laughter by saying he did not know whether the mayor was a descendant of this good woman. Among other things he said that Scotland has an interest and a charm not only for Scotchmen, but for everybody. The speaker never knew a person who had sailed on the bosom of her beautiful lakes, traveled through her romantic glens, visited her storied castles, sojourned in her picturesque capital, where every turn reveals some thrilling interest or historic event, who was not an enthusiastic admirer of Scotland.

The speaker referred at length to the distinctive features of the Scottish people and a most striking one, their sturdy independence.

The speaker said that all knew that Burns was born on the 25th of January, 1759, in a whitewashed, low cottage near the banks of the Doon, about two miles from Ayr. His father was a gardener, a man of intelligence, sterling worth, religious principles, a type of Scottish peasantry. Dr. Martin interspersed his discourse with recitations of several of Burns' poems and called particular attention to "The Cotter's Saturday Night." The speaker reminded his hearers that as the poet Burns wrote in the dialect of his countrymen and wrought their prevailing fancies into his poems they were instantaneous and universally popular. Dr. Martin was cheered to the echo.

Mayor Brown
Mayor Brown, in responding to the toast "The City of Lowell," expressed his gratitude for the reception accorded to him and alluded to the office of chief executive of the city and pronounced several changes which he had in view which would redound to the good of the municipality.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the formation of the assembly which numbered over 200, took place in Merrimack hall, after Ramsay, with his bagpipes, led the line of brave lads and fair lassies to the banquet hall below where was served the finest spread ever prepared in Lowell at a Burns banquet. Leading in the march to the hall were Mayor George H. Brown and Mrs. Brown, Henry A. Smith, Rev. J. M. Craig, Rev. George E. Martin, D. D., and Chief John H. Tait.

The bill of fare wound up with the following lines of "grace" from Burns:

"Some hae meat that canna eat
And some wad eat that want it
Let us have meat and we can eat
Sae let the Lord be thankit."
The concert program which followed the banquet was as follows:

Bagpipe Selection, Piper Ramsay; Overture, Scotch Airs, Orchestra; Chairman's remarks, Chief John H. Tait; Address to the Huggis, Past Chief Peter Caddell; Song, "There Was a Lad," Mr. John Moir; Song, "Afton Water," Mrs. W. H. Pepin; Toast, "Robert Burns," Rev. Geo. E. Martin, D. D.; Song, "O'er the Aikens," Mr. Osmund Long; Duets, "Ye Banks and Braes," Messrs. Long and Moir; Song, "A Man's a Man," Mr. John Moir; Toast, "The City of Lowell," Mayor George H. Brown; Song, (a) "John Anderson, My Jo," (b) "O Whistle, T! Come Tae Ye," Mrs. W. H. Pepin; Song, "Lass o' Ballochmyle," Mr. Osmund Long; "Auld Lang Syne."

The vocalists who appeared were all in good voice and enjoyed were accorded each participant and where all did so well it would be invidious to particularize.

AUTOS DAMAGED

Fire in Boston Caused $15,000 Loss

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—A loss of about $15,000 was caused by a fire which broke out in a garage on Boylston street between Gloucester and Bedford streets today. During a repetition of the fire of Jan. 17, when several hundred autos were destroyed at Park square, the district fire chief ordered two alarms. The blaze was soon brought under control. A few autos owned by the agents for the Thomas and the Stevens Duxey Co. were damaged while the building was badly burned in places.

The building was a four-story stone structure, the upper floors of which were used as living apartments. Several of the occupants of those apartments were taken down by ladders by the firemen, but no one was injured. The blaze is believed to have been caused by defective wiring.

Forces Lining up For Two Battleships Contest

Forced Out of Charity Dept. by Mayor Brown

Majority of Board Yielded to the Personal Dictation of the Mayor — Messrs. Coburn and Brown of the Board Stood by Courtney, Defending Him as a Faithful and Efficient Public Servant

For the first time in the history of the board of charities an executive session was held yesterday afternoon and behind closed doors with the newly appointed chairman, Mrs. Henry L. Tibbets, presiding. The board, by a vote of three to two, demanded the resignation of Supt. Martin J. Courtney, the resignation to take effect Feb. 1.

"This is the first time," said Lawrence J. Cummings, a former member of the board, "that the board of charities has ever gone into executive session. I do not understand why a body such as this board should do its work behind closed doors. As chairman of the board of charities I never stood for a closed-door meeting. It is public business and the public should know what is going on."

Commissioners Coburn and Brown voted to retain Mr. Courtney as superintendent and Mrs. Tibbets and William L. Draper, the two newly appointed members, and Ambrose Hindle, voted against Supt. Courtney. Messrs. Coburn and Brown put it up good and hard to the other three members. They wanted to know why Mr. Courtney should be removed and although they asked the question several times they did not get a satisfactory answer.

The meeting yesterday was called ostensibly for the purpose of considering and discussing the municipal register and incidentally to throw Mr. Courtney down.

The meeting was called at the request of the mayor and his visit to the office of the superintendent of charities yesterday afternoon was said to be the first since his inauguration. It was said by one thing that Mayor Brown promised during his campaign and in his inaugural address it was that there should be no secrets at city hall. He promised the people that everything would be open and above board.

Mayor Brown has offered Mr. Courtney's position to Mr. Thales P. Hall, but that gentleman will not accept.

Before the meeting was called yesterday afternoon Mrs. Tibbets and Mayor Brown were in conference in the mayor's office and the mayor ordered Mrs. Tibbets to the office of the board of charities. He introduced the new president to other members of the board and to the newspaper men. On the long table and near Mrs. Tibbets' seat was a beautiful bouquet of white and red pinks and jack roses sent by the associated boards of charities.

Before calling to order Mrs. Tibbets said she felt it incumbent upon her to say a few words. "As this is a new experience for me and also for you," she said, "I think it fitting for me to say a few words. I did not take this position just because the mayor appointed me. I am not afraid of the honor of the appointment, but I accepted the position because I felt that in this particular work a woman's help is required for she can do things that are not within the province of man to do. I feel that a higher ruler than the mayor has called upon me to do this work. I ask that you manifest a spirit of forbearance and I beg your hearty co-operation in order that we may do the most good for the greatest number and for the good of our city. I will be open at all times for suggestions. I am not here to antagonize but to assist. I will not ask for favors and have no favors to give. If there are any people removed, so far as I am concerned, it will make no difference to me if they are republicans or democrats, Protestants or Catholics, rich or poor."

It was moved by Mr. Hindle and seconded by Mr. Draper that the resignation of Mr. Courtney be demanded. To take effect Feb. 1.

Mrs. Tibbets said she would favor that motion because the mayor had told her of a number of charges that would be sufficient for the removal of Mr. Courtney.

The fact remained, however, that these charges were not given and Mr. Courtney was not brought an opportunity to meet them.

Mr. Coburn reiterated what he had said time and time again about Mr. Courtney. He said he had implicit confidence in him and he averred that removal would be a distinct loss to the department and to the city.

Mrs. Courtney said she was a conscientious and capable official, and I feel it my duty to protest against his removal. Certainly believe that members of the board should not vote on this question without the consideration, in justice to the department and to Mr. Courtney, I do not believe that the mayor should be a dictator in this matter."

Commissioner Brown said that if charges against him had influenced the members to vote for the removal of Mr. Courtney, the latter had every right to a hearing on these charges.

It was moved, seconded, and voted that a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. Pratt, the retiring member, for his faithful and efficient work while a member of the board.

The vote for an executive session was not properly taken; in fact it was not a vote, for the "nays" were not asked for. The motion for an executive session was made by Mr. Hindle and the chair called for the "yeas" and only two responded, Messrs. Draper and Hindle.

Before the chairman had time to call for the "nays" Mayor Brown interrupted by saying that before going into executive session he had a word to say about the municipal register. The mayor made his statement and withdrew calling for the other side of the vote the board went into executive session.

While the reporters were ejected they were yet in the right house, though in the wrong room. Walls, however, have ears and so have reporters. The discussion by the board were not carried on in very low tones and the voices of the speakers were plainly audible in the room where the reporters nestled and here, in substance, what transpired:

It was moved by Mr. Hindle and seconded by Mr. Draper that the resignation of Mr. Courtney be demanded. To take effect Feb. 1.

Mrs. Tibbets said she would favor that motion because the mayor had told her of a number of charges that would be sufficient for the removal of Mr. Courtney.

"HOOK OF HOLLAND" Frank Daniels, who has made a multitude of people laugh by his comic speeches and quaint doings on the stage, will be seen at the Opera House tonight. He will be seen under the management of Charles Frohman, in a musical comedy by Paul A. Rubens called, during its run in London and New York, "Miss Hook of Holland." With Daniels, so dear to the hearts of the theatregoers who love pure and wholesome fun, in the role of "Hook," an intensely amusing performance may be anticipated.

"The play is one of the daintiest and most popular musical shows that Charles Frohman has ever produced in this country. It ran for two years in London and was then brought to the United States, playing practically all of last season in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. The music and 'character' of the piece are by Paul Rubens, who wrote "The Three Little Maids" and other successful musical pieces.

The splendid company which Mr. Frohman has placed around Mr. Daniels numbers seventy people.

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS" Danny Mabel Taliaferro in "Polly of the Circus" will be seen here tomorrow and Thursday. The play is by Margaret Mayo and as the name indicates, it is a story of circus life, but it is as a study of circus character and not as a presentation of circus spectacles that the play makes its appeal.

The scene of the play is laid in a small town in the middle west, where a circus is playing in a lot adjoining the parsonage. Polly, the principal rider, has a mishap in the ring, and as there is no hospital in town she is taken to the clergyman's house for care. Up to that time she has known nothing of any life except that under the round tent. During her long period of convalescence her very artlessness makes a tremendous appeal to the clergyman who is in love before he knows it. The story is highly interesting and the character drawings exceedingly clever.

Mr. Thompson has provided a most elaborate scenic production and a company of most capable people, among them being Eddie Brown, Joseph Brown, John Findlay, J. W. Hollis, James Cherry, Guy Nichols, Jennie Weatherly, Mattie Ferguson.

"GIRLS" Charles Cherry, the leading man in Sam S. & Lee Shubert's new production of "Girls," by no means a stranger to theatregoers. For several years he was leading man for Mary Manning and prior to his present engagement acted for five years in the same capacity for Maxine Elliott. In Clyde Fitch's comedy "Girls," Mr. Cherry has a part exactly suited to him, that of a laughing, care-free young lawyer, who, in spite of the efforts of the girl to remain single, knocks down the worst snatcher of the three, "Girls" comes in the Opera House, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 29 and 30th.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC The work opened at the Academy with two large houses and both audiences were highly pleased at the big attraction offered. As was previously promised, the bill is the brightest, biggest and best for the money in town and that the audiences agreed to it was shown by the frequency of their applause.

ON CHARGES OF COWARDICE AND NEGLECT SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 25.—Captain Peter Farrer of Seattle, who received notice that he and Captain Patrick Hamilton had been exonerated of charges of cowardice and neglect in connection with the wreck of the gunnery bark Star of Bengal and the loss of 111 lives on Coronation Island, Alaska, September 29. The decision was rendered by United States Inspector Whitney and Newhall at Juneau. Captain Farrer was master of the tug Itasca and Captain Hamilton, master of the tug Koyuk. They were towing the tug out but in the face of a southwest gale were compelled to cut the hawsers and seek safety.

Captain Wagner of the Star of Bengal preferred the charges against the tugboats but the inspectors exonerated Farrer and Hamilton, vindicating their action.

A NAHANT BOY SHOT HIS CHUM WHILE EXAMINING A GUN NAHANT, Jan. 25.—While a group of boys were examining an old 10-gauge broken in a barn on Colby Hill tonight, Everett Lewis, 17, a resident of the hill, was accidentally shot by George Alexander, one year his junior. The boys are close friends.

The contents of the gun hit the boy in the abdomen, but a lucky oversight that he was prevented a serious, if not fatal, injury.

The big this week includes three reels of new and finely executed moving pictures. That the subjects are varied may be judged by their titles as follows: "Don Juan," "Maggie Miror," "Magistrate's Consensus," "Cabby's Wife" and "Lonely Gentlemen." These include the humorous and dramatic along with the mystifying and the descriptive and make a most complete moving picture bill. In addition to the pictures there are illustrated songs sung by Marion Brown MacNamara, who alone is worth the price of admission to hear. It's a big bill for 10 cents and all should witness a performance. There will be a complete change of bill on Thursday.

THEATRE VOYONS The sensational collision between the ocean liners Republic and Florida last Saturday and the heavy fog which caused the collision was responsible for the "Theatre Voyons" not being able to carry out its promises and show the pictures of the Italian Earthquake yesterday. The film to be used here was consigned to the American Vitaphone house and was shipped on the Baltic, which was storm bound and which rescued the passengers of the two injured ships. The Baltic was two days late in getting into New York and though the films were shipped as soon as possible they did not arrive in Lowell yesterday. They are expected today. The pictures are all of Italian manufacture and a lucky chance caught the Vitaphone Co., and through it the local firm, to get the first showing of these pictures. So great was the bustle among the American agents for this set of films that nearly all the local agents were sent to the Italian company imploring them to ship pictures to the different American firms.

STAR THEATRE The initial presentation of the talking picture "Queen of the Arena," at the Star Theatre, a new company of actors and actresses were decided. The picture promises to be one of the most popular ever shown. It is a story of a famous circus, and the circus band, barbers, and performers are all there. It is just like seeing the play. The amateurs will hold the house tonight. Some new ones will be in the line.

THE PRISONERS NOT PROPERLY ACCOMMODATED AT HOUSE OF CORRECTION NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 25.—Louie L. Minard, county commissioner from Nashua, declares that the present house of correction at Grassmere is inadequate and unable to accommodate the prisoners now sent there as they should be housed for. This is due, it is claimed, to the city of Nashua and Manchester taking advantage of the right to send all prisoners there and the situation at the city houses of correction. The present house of correction was built 15 years ago and is so crowded now that the prisoners are obliged to sleep on the floor in some instances, it is claimed.

Mr. Minard believes that a replica of the present one should add sufficient space to provide for being taken to come. He also states that the present building is about $75 a month, and believes that a plant installed there would save money. The commissioner will urge the county delegation to take the matter up in the legislature.

ARE EXONERATED ON CHARGES OF COWARDICE AND NEGLECT SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 25.—Captain Peter Farrer of Seattle, who received notice that he and Captain Patrick Hamilton had been exonerated of charges of cowardice and neglect in connection with the wreck of the gunnery bark Star of Bengal and the loss of 111 lives on Coronation Island, Alaska, September 29. The decision was rendered by United States Inspector Whitney and Newhall at Juneau. Captain Farrer was master of the tug Itasca and Captain Hamilton, master of the tug Koyuk. They were towing the tug out but in the face of a southwest gale were compelled to cut the hawsers and seek safety.

Captain Wagner of the Star of Bengal preferred the charges against the tugboats but the inspectors exonerated Farrer and Hamilton, vindicating their action.

A NAHANT BOY SHOT HIS CHUM WHILE EXAMINING A GUN NAHANT, Jan. 25.—While a group of boys were examining an old 10-gauge broken in a barn on Colby Hill tonight, Everett Lewis, 17, a resident of the hill, was accidentally shot by George Alexander, one year his junior. The boys are close friends.

The contents of the gun hit the boy in the abdomen, but a lucky oversight that he was prevented a serious, if not fatal, injury.

A considerable sensation was caused by the shooting because of the story told by the injured lad, who tried to crawl up the side of the hill, but when he got to the top, he found that he was not hurt.

Some of the shot on the hill was fired from his stomach.

PITTSBURG MAN BROCKTON BOY

Testifies in the Harri-man Case

PITTSBURG, Jan. 26.—Henry C. Frick, the Pittsburgh multimillionaire, has been called as a witness in the government's case against the Harri-man case.

BROCKTON, Jan. 26.—Lewis Maybury, 12, of Belmont street, last night saved an aged woman from beneath the hoofs of a pair of horses attached to a heavy team at the risk of his own life.

As Mrs. Ellen Bonney of Brookville was crossing Main and Church streets she fell in front of a team of the National Biscuit company.

Maybury, who was returning from an errand, succeeded in pulling her from beneath the feet of the horse.

Beyond minor bruises she is suffering no ill effects from the accident.

No One Can Have That Healthy Glow if Digestion is Imperfect—Try this Money Back Cure

Nine times in ten stomach derangements are responsible for sallow complexion, dull eyes, thin body, and colorless cheeks.

It is the stomach that supplies nourishing blood to the muscles, the nerves, and skin. If the stomach is healthy, plenty of nutritious matter will be absorbed by the blood. If it is not healthy, the food will ferment, and undigested, the food will pass along through the bowels, furnishing so little nutritious matter that the blood becomes impoverished, and the glow of health vanishes.

If you suffer from nervousness, sick headache, belching of gas, sour taste in the mouth, heaviness after eating, or any other miserable stomach disturbance, you need M-O-N-A, the mighty cure for indigestion, and the sooner you get it the quicker you will be healthier and happier.

It will relieve any distressed stomach condition almost immediately. It will cure if used according to directions.

Carters & Sherburne sell it for 50 cents a large box and they think enough of it to guarantee it to cure indigestion, sea or car sickness, vomiting, pregnancy, or indigestion.

Read these sincere words:

"My food did not digest, but fermented, making gas, which pressed against my heart, and on many occasions I expected to die. I doctored and used remedies without success or relief, until using M-O-N-A. I was cured. Mrs. Nina M. Sherburne, 253 Powers street, Boston Harbor, Mich."

"M-O-N-A" sold in every town in America.

There isn't now, there never was, there probably never will be, such a focus remedy for constipation as M-O-N-A. 25c a box at Carters & Sherburne's.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY A LIFE SAVER.

Never before was the efficacy of wireless telegraphy in saving lives at sea so forcibly demonstrated as in the disaster which befell the White Star line steamer Republic. The great liner received her death blow early Saturday morning and began to fill with water immediately, her water-tight compartments keeping her barely afloat until the pressure became too great and they yielded, at 8:30 o'clock Sunday night.

Had there been no such thing as wireless telegraphy the entire passengers and crew might have perished, for not even the Florida by which the vessel was rammed might have found her but for the wireless messages flashed in all directions calling for help. No less than seven ocean liners were called to the spot, and when all had assembled, the scene must have resembled a great marine funeral, and so in reality it was—the loss of the steamer Republic. But were it not for the wireless telegraphy the loss of life might have been even more terrible than that of La Bourgoyne, over a decade ago, in whose fate was recorded one of the worst marine disasters of modern times.

The experience of the Republic and the demonstration of the great value of wireless telegraphy will increase the faith in that wonderful invention, and will make more illustrious the name of Marconi.

Henceforth will the death rate, due to marine disasters, be reduced by more than half, for no matter where a steamer may go, either in the Atlantic or the Pacific, she will almost always be within easy call of several others; and this adds to the security in case of disaster.

It is now in order for all governments to insist that every steamer of any importance or that embarks upon a voyage of any considerable distance shall be equipped with apparatus for wireless telegraphy. Insurance companies, we can readily see, will hereafter insist upon this life-saving apparatus and will discriminate against the vessels that venture to sea without it. It is fully as essential as life boats and in most cases of accident a thousand times more useful. Of what account would the life boats of the Republic have been had the passengers been forced to that resort? The 800 passengers would have had a poor chance in life boats to wait until picked up by some passing vessel. That might have been their fate but for the wireless. The people who go to sea owe a debt of gratitude to Marconi that the world can never repay.

MORE JAPANESE WAR TALK.

It is a mighty queer situation we are in relative to the Japanese. The state of California has set out to enact a number of measures of various kinds to restrict the rights and powers of Japanese immigrants in that state. One measure has for its object to segregate the Japanese in one district in Californian cities. Another is intended to prevent them from acquiring ownership in land, and another to restrict their rights to citizenship.

These measures, reported by the Tokio press, have created such a sensation in that capital that the emperor had to order a censorship to prevent the publication of inflammatory articles.

In spite of this, however, the war talk has been revived not only in Japan but on this side the Pacific.

President Roosevelt has appealed to the governor of California to oppose the passage of these measures in the interests of international peace, and that official has consented to use his influence against their enactment. But the people are determined. They want these measures made law or else they want Japanese immigration stopped. The president has already taken steps that may check Japanese immigration or else divert it to some other state.

The danger lies in the possibility of California by discriminating against the Japanese, violating some treaty with the Orientals.

The federal government in making treaties cannot abridge the sovereign rights of any state, nor can any state legally violate a treaty that is warranted by the constitution. In spite of all this, however, the state of California by exercising its legislative power can embroil this nation in a war with Japan, the latter's object being to secure for immigrants of that nationality the same treatment as accorded immigrants from European countries.

The situation is one that requires prompt and tactful diplomatic treatment by representatives of this country.

MR. BRYAN PROPOSED FOR U. S. SENATOR.

The legislature and governor of Nebraska, being democratic, can pass whatever democratic measures they please. One of the measures now before the legislature is intended to make William J. Bryan a United States senator. It provides for the Oregon method of selection by popular vote.

That is a rather dubious method to adopt in a state that has a republican majority. The democratic legislature could elect him without any recommendation by the voters.

The republican minority in the legislature has opposed the bill, and it is, therefore, projected on party lines, a matter that is likely to militate against the object of the measure at the polls.

Mr. Bryan would make a good senator and would keep popular reforms always to the front. His election, however, by no means certain under the arrangement by which it is sought.

In addition to this the legislature has under consideration another measure that emanates from Mr. Bryan. It provides for a penalty of fine or imprisonment or both for any individual, firm or corporation convicted of coercing voters about election time by threats of closing down any place of business in case any particular candidate or political party shall be victorious at the polls.

This kind of coercion has frequently been exercised, and no doubt Mr. Bryan has ample evidence that it was widely exercised in the recent presidential election.

SEEN AND HEARD

They do tell that up Lawrence street way there's a speak-easy in operation and the proprietor, it is alleged, is reaping quite a rich harvest. He is using all the coming and diplomacy that he can muster and the following little story demonstrates how careful he is in his management of the place.

Last Sunday, it seems, six or seven men entered his place in a "bunch." They had their throats with them and they were resorting to his house for the purpose of getting drink minus the ceremony of food.

The vigilant and diplomatic proprietor met them at the door and this is what he is alleged to have said: "Are you fellows trying to put me out of business? Haven't you any better sense than to come here in a bunch. If a cop saw you fellows marching up here together he would arrest me. It would be an easy matter for him to prove that I would have to pay a fine."

"No you can't come in here in bunches. If you want a drink you will have to go back to the street and come in one by one."

WHAT THREATENS

O little Mary, plain of face,
With eyes of faded blue,
Some day some large, impulsive man
Will tell in love with you.
Will swear you are the very miss
His empty heart is full.
The one and only girl for him.
Or let us hope he will.

Some moment when you least expect
A lover he will stray
Across your path and after that
Refuse to go away.
Your very presence, he'll declare,
Will cause his heart to thrill,
And makes him for the first time live,
Or let us hope he will.

With praises he will overwhelm
Your modest maiden heart,
Will promise death and death alone,
You two can never part.
Will write a sonnet to your eyes
With fervor if not skill.
To prove they are the lightest yet,
Or let us hope he will.

And, little Mary, plain of face,
Adorned with charms so few,
You'll half believe as he protests
The things he says are true.
And when you have been hitched for life
Your dreams to fulfill:
You'll ever after happy live,
Or let us hope he will.

In the A. B. C. class in the Pond street school the teacher in the first primary class has established a very original and unique way of questioning her little ones with the fact that the world is round. Finding it impossible to impress them by map illustrations she hit upon a novel idea of verse that reads something after this fashion:
Ching Foo, Chinese boy, upside down,
That's the way he looks to me.
When I'm lying in bed at night,
Playing in the sun is he.

A thought for today:
"We rise by the things that are under our feet;
By what we have mastered of good or gain,
By the pride deposited and the passion slain,
And the vanquished ills that we hourly meet."
—James Russell Lowell.

A few years ago a friend of City Messenger Patten's met him and complained of being deaf. He said he could not understand correctly unless he used a horn. Mr. Patten advised the fellow to go to the eye and ear infirmary in Boston. "Joe" jokingly

THAT'S WHAT A BOTTLE OF NEURALGIC ANODYNE COSTS.

Why, Oh why, do people suffer from neuralgia pains when they can be quickly cured for a few cents. Probably, when in that agonizing condition, they cannot think of the old-time tried and standard specific for neuralgia which is for sale everywhere at only 25 cents a large bottle. NEURALGIC ANODYNE is a friend indeed in time of need, for it can be used internally and externally, and besides neuralgia, it cures cramps in the stomach, rheumatism, pleurisy, nervous headache, lumbago, or an irritating cough. Keep it in the house all the time. If you don't know about NEURALGIC ANODYNE, ask your neighbor. Made by The Twitchell-Champin Co., Portland, Me.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mr. Spofford's successor at Washington as assistant librarian appears to be a man of mark, says The Dial. A. P. C. Griffin, formerly chief of the division of bibliography, is endowed in no small measure with some of those qualities of mind and memory that distinguished his predecessor. No one has been more in demand on the part of congressmen and senators engaged in "getting up" subjects for oratorical or argumentative or literary presentation. We are told that so much has bibliography become the warp and woof of his being that his brain is now a better and more complete catalogue than any the library possesses. Without a moment's warning he is likely to be called upon for information on any conceivable subject, but he is said to be unfailing in his resources. No library in the world enjoys the services of one who takes greater pains to satisfy the public and this unflagging zeal and the quickness with which books or other material, or verbal information, are forthcoming at the applicant's request, are a constant source of surprise to foreigners. The British Museum, the National Library in Paris, and the great Berlin and Munich libraries are justly proud of the careful services they render to all admitted to their privileges; but it is conceded by those who have worked in libraries both here and abroad that our methods are simpler and better, and our librarians and assistants less bureaucratic than those of Europe. It is the quick intelligence, the ready sympathy, and the stored minds of men and women like Mr. Griffin that help to make the practical efficiency of our libraries unequalled.

Springfield's oldest active school teacher, Dwight Clark, principal of a grammar school, has just observed his 78th birthday anniversary, and, notwithstanding his advanced years he is at his school daily to attend to his duties, apparently as vigorous as when much younger. He began teaching at the age of 17 and has been in charge of schools in Lebanon, East Longmeadow, Leverett and Old Hadley and Springfield, where, previous to the eighties, he was for four years supervisor of music. Mr. Clark's ambition is to be able to teach until he reaches the age of 80.

The First State Normal school at Kirtlandville, Mo., will soon have a farm run in connection with the school, in order to give the students the practical training in agriculture. Fifteen thousand dollars will be spent in acquiring an 80 acre tract and in erecting the necessary buildings for the farm. It is planned to construct on this farm an ideal country home which will be occupied by a number of students. There will likewise be an ideal barn, pig pens and other farm buildings. But the aims of the farm management will be to train the students in agriculture and in raising and the most favorable conditions. All of the carpenter work done on the houses and barns and all of the plowing and cultivating will be done by students, who will receive compensation for their services. President Clark says that it will be a kind of co-operation training which will give the needy students a chance to earn a livelihood.

Captain Alice M. Cobb of the Boston Salvation Army, who has volunteered for missionary work in India, will sail from New York with other Salvation Army volunteers missionaries for Bombay by way of London. At Bombay the missionaries will be under the direction of Commander Booth-Tucker, son-in-law of General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army.

Two hundred and twenty-four clergymen of Greater Boston have affixed their signatures to remonstrance against further increase of the navy, and the document has been forwarded to congress. Among those who signed were Rev. Alexander Mann, D. D., of Trinity church; Rev. A. Z. Conrad, D. D., of Park street church; Rev. James D. Patton, D. D., secretary of the American board; Rev. Paul Rogers, D. D., of the Arlington street church; Bishop W. C. Mahoney of the Methodist church; Rev. James O. Norcandle, D. D., Rev. O. P. Gifford, D. D., Rev. L. B. Bates, D. D., Rev.

In view of the interest taken at this time whether or not the name of Edgar Allan Poe will be added next year, when the time for election comes round, to the roll of the Hall of Fame, the list of those already enrolled is of interest. CARRIE NATION

WAS PELTED WITH EGGS IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who is attempting to deliver a series of lectures here, met with a very hostile reception at the Canterbury Music hall last night. She was pelted with eggs, one of them striking her in the face. From the very beginning the audience maintained a chorus of boos and hisses. Her manager vainly appealed for fair play, and Mrs. Nation was obliged to quit the house under police protection.

THREE DEAD

AS RESULT OF FIRE IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—A fire that broke out at an early hour yesterday in the residence of W. G. Slack, treasurer of the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, resulted in the death of three of Mr. Slack's daughters, Beatrice, aged 16, Marguerite, aged 12, and Ruth, aged nine, while Mrs. Slack and two other daughters, Elizabeth and Gertrude, are in the hospital, the former suffering from prostration and the latter from burns.

MIND RESTORED

BY LETTER WRITTEN BY HIS DAUGHTER

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 26.—E. Brooks Dow of Chelsea, Mass., confined in the county court here of being of unsound mind, regained his reason yesterday upon seeing a letter from his daughter, Miss Myrtle L. Dow of Chelsea. This letter, addressed to Deputy County Clerk Beavers, and asking that particulars about her father's affliction, confirmed his story that he has a daughter in Chelsea and an aunt in Medford, Mass.

At the time of his trial he seemed to have hallucinations about three relatives. The delusion of religion also weighed heavily on his mind. The news that his daughter had written overwhelmed him with joy. He wrote his daughter a letter and enclosed it with Beavers' reply. In the letter he expressed a wish to be back in Chelsea.

Beavers assures the daughter that her father is again rational. Among those who have observed the sudden complete restoration of reason to Dow is the father, William McKinn.

A MILLIONAIRE

ATTEMPTED TO BRAIN A LAWYER

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 26.—Louis Kingman, the millionaire plow manufacturer, created a scene in the chancery court here yesterday, where he was the defendant in a suit for separation brought by his wife, Evelyn Kingman, formerly of Boston.

Taking exception to a statement by Ira Covey, the opposing counsel, Kingman shrieked, "I'll brain you for that, Covey," and catching up a tumbler, attempted to hit him on the head. The tumbler was knocked out of his hand by his counsel, who finally succeeded in quieting him. The divorce was granted by the court.

$1200 BOOTY

WAS SECURED BY BURGLARS IN GLOUCESTER

GLOUCESTER, Jan. 26.—The contents of a No. 2 shoe in the show, covering the town, is the only clue the police have to discover the identity of a burglar who broke into the home of John S. Dooliver Sunday night and carried away $1200 in booty.

Although the break must have occurred some time last night it was not until yesterday afternoon that the news reached the police. The burglars were visiting in Beverly and returned to their home in the section on Washington street, where they situated the finest residences in the city, to discover their loss.

Witnesses from a dozen states began to arrive yesterday to testify before the grand jury, which will meet today. The government officials say there will be a large number of witnesses to show who the persons are, but that a large

A REPUBLICAN

Chosen Head of Boston Aldermen

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The aldermen on the third ballot yesterday afternoon, elected Frederick J. Brand permanent chairman. Daniel J. Donnelly, democratic alderman from ward seven, broke the deadlock by casting his vote with the six republicans, thereby giving the chairmanship to a republican for the year 1909.

This is the fourth year in succession that, owing to the dissensions among the democratic members, a republican has been chairman of the board of aldermen, despite the democratic majority. The first break came in ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's first year, when, as a result of the flip of a coin, Draper, republican, and Cauley, democratic, divided the year, the republican having the first part and the democrat the end. Alderman Berwin presided the next year, and last year Louis M. Clark carried off the honor.

Donnelly's vote was the surprise of the day. The republicans were dumfounded, as Alderman Brand, of all the republican members, is the one least in favor with the mayor's office. The surprise was equally great to J. Frank O'Hare, who had every reason to believe that before the aldermen stopped voting the republicans would join with Alderman Attridge and elect him chairman.

NIGHT EDITION
IN FIERCE ATTACKRep. Rainey Arraigns President and President-ElectIn the Panama Canal Matter — Charges Senator Lodge With Deal By Which $1,000,000
Was Taken Out of Treasury —
Calls For Investigation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Charging that William Nelson Cromwell, Roger L. Farnham, Charles P. Taft and others are parties to the "most infamous railroad proposition ever submitted to any government and that they are being permitted not only to rob the republic of Panama but indirectly the treasury of the United States," Representative Rainey of Illinois today delivered a scathing speech in support of his resolution providing for an investigation by congress of the Panama canal purchase.

"In their efforts in this direction," he continued, "they have had so far the co-operation and the assistance of the present administration and of the next president of the United States."

Mr. Rainey traced the history of the proposed canal four hundred years back and warned "that we have already started in the direction of the road upon which the French companies were wrecked."

Mr. Rainey charged that "through the manipulations of Mr. Cromwell the French canal company was permitted to steal from the United States government three or four million dollars" and that after he had become "owner in fact of the United States he became a party to an attempt to collect from the United States a fraudulent claim on the part of the canal company of $2,200,000."

He also attacked Don Jose Domingo de Obaldia, president of Panama, who, he said, "represented as no other Spanish-American statesman in his generation, all that is corrupt in Spanish-American politics."

Against President-elect Taft now en route to the canal zone Mr. Rainey directed his fiercest attack, saying that on the occasion of his last trip to Panama in May "he did nothing on the isthmus except to openly push the candidacy of Obaldia for the presidency."

He asserted that a "thickly veiled threat to seize the republic if Obaldia was not elected" was contained in a letter written by Mr. Taft to the then president, Ambassador, and to prevent this crisis Obaldia's opponent withdrew.

Reference to President Roosevelt's recent attack on Senator Tillman was made by Mr. Rainey in ascertaining that Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was responsible for the expenditure on Jan. 1 last of over 1,000,000 dollars for the purchase of the steamships Shawmut and Tremont for the Panama R. R. Co., which, he said, the railroad commission did not want and did not need but which, he said, were bought because the constituents of the senator from Massachusetts wanted to sell them. He said that for some weeks the secret agents of the government had been investigating the senator from South Carolina. "They have," he said, "discovered that he used his frank inadvertently in private correspondence and so deprived the government of revenue to the amount of two cents and the matter was considered enough to be embodied in a special message from the president to congress. The senator from Massachusetts, I believe, has been invited to the White House dinners by the president's friend and adviser and the cabinet maker for the incoming president."

"I have not heard of any secret service agents disturbing the senator from Massachusetts and yet he is directly, individually and solely responsible that there was taken out of the treasury of the United States over one million dollars."

"A year or two after the independence of Panama," continued Mr. Rainey, "the officials of the little republic commenced to absorb the ideas of patriotism peculiarly distasteful to Mr. Cromwell. Mr. Cromwell determined to displace Mr. Amador and put in as president some more pliant personage and, of course, his attention was directed to his old friend and ally, Obaldia.

"Subsequently, Obaldia's opponent withdrew on account of the interference of Secretary Taft in the elections, and Obaldia was elected. The plan of Mr. Cromwell and his associates," he declared, "was to absolutely appropriate to their own use the revenues of the republic and to steal the forests and the public lands. The necessity for Mr. Taft's interference and for the election of Obaldia becomes now as plain as day."

Mr. Rainey said there was pending and about to be adopted in the general assembly of Panama the most infamous railroad proposition ever submitted to any government by which Randolph G. Ward of New York was largely to be the beneficiary.

It will be interesting to know who the gentlemen are who are attempting in this way to impoverish the republic of Panama, he said, and he mentioned William Nelson Cromwell, Robert L. Farnham, W. S. Harvey and Charles P. Taft. Mr. Rainey did not charge Mr. Taft as being "a party to this infamous scheme," but alluded to his friendship for Mr. Cromwell and his alleged activity on the isthmus of Panama.

Mr. Rainey charged that Mr. Cromwell and Mr. Farnham have been actively engaged for two or three weeks promoting treaties affecting Colombia and Panama pending before the senate.

"These patriotic gentlemen," said Mr. Rainey in conclusion, "are being permitted not only to rob the republic of Panama but indirectly to rob the treasury of the United States and in their efforts in this direction they have had so far the complete co-operation and the active assistance of the present administration and of the next president of the United States."

RIVET JURY

Retired While Points of Law
Were Argued

The second day's session of the Rivet fair trial. Relative to the penalty for murder trial opened at the court house at 9:30 this morning with an attendance of 300. The jury was sworn in and the case was called for the purpose of examining the capacity of the court room and many were turned away to prevent overcrowding. There were many women present.

Rivet was brought in by Sheriff Everett and Rhodes, pale, but smiling, the smile broadening as he greeted his counsel. He paid the closest attention to the opening remarks of Asst. Dist. Attorney Wier, a half smile on his face.

The court came in at the appointed hour and without any delay Asst. Dist. Attorney Wier made his opening remarks to the jury.

Explaining premeditation Mr. Wier stated that a man may take but a short time in determining to commit murder, but the fact that he has the intent brings him under the charge of murder in the first degree.

Noting the fact that several jurors yesterday had stated that they did not believe in circumstantial evidence, Mr. Wier explained at considerable length and with many illustrations what circumstantial evidence really is. He then explained the familiar expression "beyond a reasonable doubt."

After describing the two men, Mr. Wier said: "As far as we know, Napoleon J. Rivet was the only man to gain by the death of Joseph Gailloux. He held a policy of $10,000 on Gailloux's life. Early in December, 1908, Rivet went to the office of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. in Lowell asking for a position. Rivet gave references and upon calling later was asked to give an account of his previous employment. He did not furnish them and was not employed. Later he asked if he would get a commission if he procured someone and the other a liquid of Paris green whiteness. He asked the jury to note these bottles and the bottles that Rivet's former superintendent in Taunton would produce.

A Previous Attempt
Mr. Wier then related an incident that happened the Saturday evening previous to the night of the murder. Mr. Daigle's son and two companions on that night had been to the theatre and passing Daigle's father store where the murder was afterward committed, Young Daigle suggested going inside for a drink. He tried his boy in the door, but found that he could not work it. He then went to the side door and Gailloux let them in. Gailloux was drunk and Rivet sober. There was a bottle containing a little whiskey, which the three newcomers drank. Gailloux then asked the three for money, two giving him ten cents and one five cents. Gailloux turned the money over to Rivet, who immediately produced another bottle of liquor. This was drunk and then all went away.

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Wier impressively, "Rivet intended to dispose of Gailloux that night, but the arrival of the three young men thwarted his purpose."

Mr. Wier then proceeded to rehearse the events that occurred on the night of the murder, tracing the movements of both men most minutely the night of the killing, and he gave a graphic description of the murder of the body.

"The liquid that had been used," said Mr. Wier, "was found in a bottle beside the dead body was found a dark liquid which the chemists found was sulphuric acid, the same color of the acid used in Taunton, where Rivet had worked, the same color as the liquid in the bottle in Rivet's room. Then again in the office that night was found the stub of a Sweet Caporal brand cigar wrapper, an unusual kind of cigar. When Rivet was arrested a box of this particular kind of cigars containing four of the cigars, was found in his possession. The appearance of the cigar stub showed that it was the same as the one found in Taunton. Rivet worked at which he had to use sulphuric acid.

Mr. Wier then traced Rivet back to Lowell shortly before the murder. He referred to the fact that his landlady in Lowell, wondering where her room would come from, went through his room one day and found wrapped up in paper in the top of his closet two white bottles, one containing a dark liquid insurance. He went away and returned some time afterward with six industrial policies, on four of which the applicants named Rivet to be examined and the other two, after being examined, refused to take out the policies. Still later Rivet visited the agent of the company and stated that he had an applicant for $1000 straight insurance. He was told to bring the applicant to the office for examination. Rivet stated that he would bring the man but that he must be examined at once as he was going away. Rivet then brought Gailloux and the latter was examined but he did not leave town, as Rivet said he would. When the policy came back Rivet and not Gailloux received it and paid the first annual premium, $31.59. The policy was payable to the estate of Joseph Gailloux. A short time afterward Rivet went to the late Lawyer Rivet and had the policy assigned to him as beneficiary. Rivet then went to Taunton to work and while there paid the second premium on the policy.

Rivet's Work in Taunton
Mr. Wier called attention to the fact that while in Taunton, Rivet worked at cleaning copper at which he had to use sulphuric acid.

Inspector Dow Does Away With Elevator Inspector

The city will no longer employ an elevator inspector. The office was abolished this afternoon by James Dow, inspector of public buildings, and John Hour, who held the position of elevator inspector, was told that his services were no longer required. Shortly after Mr. Dow was elected inspector of public buildings he heard to say that it was not necessary for the city to employ an inspector of elevators. He said it was the duty of the state inspectors to look after the elevators and he expressed his determination to abolish the office. While it is a fact that the state inspectors are supposed to look after all elevators in public buildings, it is also a fact that a great many changes or repairs have been made in elevators throughout the city and now that the office has been abolished it will be up to the lands and buildings department to see that the state officers do their whole duty.

THE CLANCY CASE

Was Not Tried in the Civil Court Today

The case of M. Clancy against John B. Clancy, an action of contract, which was to have been heard by Judge Hadley in the civil session of the police court this afternoon was again postponed, this time for a week.

There were many interesting points which it was expected would be brought out during the course of the testimony inasmuch as the suit is the result of liquor traffic between this city and Lawrence during the last no-license period in this city.

M. Clancy, a wholesale liquor dealer of Lawrence, claims that at different times during the no-license year he delivered goods to Clancy for which the latter has not paid. Mr. Clancy, it is said, tried to collect the bill, but failing to do so turned the matter over to

COCHECO MILLS

ACCEPT OFFER OF THE PACIFIC MILLS

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 26.—By a vote of 11,866 shares in favor of 645 shares in opposition the stockholders of the Cochecho Mfg. Co. of Dover voted today to accept the offer of the Pacific Mills of $1,125,000 for the property, assets and good will of the Cochecho Co. The directors of the Cochecho Co. later took similar action.

The stockholders authorized the president and treasurer, as agents for the Cochecho Co. to prepare and execute the instruments necessary for the transfer. It was also voted that upon the final transfer of the property to the Pacific Mills the sum of $1,125,000 be distributed among the stockholders at the rate of $75 on every share of a par value of $100 and $375 for every share of par value of $500. Afterwards the affairs of the Cochecho Co. will be liquidated and the supreme court of the state will be requested to issue a decree dissolving the corporation.

SEN. STEVENSON

MAY BE CHOICE FOR U. S. SENATOR

MADISON, Jan. 26.—In the balloting for a United States senator today in separate branches of the legislature Senator Stevenson, it was expected, would receive a majority of the votes in each house and tomorrow be elected formally in joint assembly. Neal Brown, democrat, it was conceded, would receive the democratic support. When the session opened the joint resolution for an investigation of the senatorial primary came up in the senate for reconsideration. Senator Paul Husting, democrat, and Senator Blaine (Lafayette), republican, were on the program for speeches.

Fifteen members of the assembly today refused to vote for the United States senatorship. Fourteen of these were republicans.

On the first ballot the vote stood: Stevenson, republican, 60; Neal Brown, democrat, 38; Jacob Samuel, socialist, 2; S. A. Cook, republican, 2; Cooper, republican, 1; Esch, republican, 1; Stout, 1; Blank, 1; total, 99. The senate did not vote but took a recess until 3 o'clock.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Upon resuming its inquiry today into the alleged libelous articles in the New York World and the Indianapolis News, affecting the Panama canal purchase, the federal grand jury heard J. W. Whitely of New York city, a former employee of the New York World.

Mr. Whitely previously had been in consultation with Dist. Atty. Baker. Neither he nor Mr. Baker carried any papers into the jury room.

Mr. Whitely informed the grand jury that prior to the publication of the Panama canal stories in the World the management of the paper knew that they would render themselves liable to prosecution.

The government will offer no further evidence until Friday next, when a number of employees of the World will be summoned here for examination.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Secretary Root attended his last cabinet meeting today, and his colleagues in the official family gave him a farewell such as he will long remember. DISASTER TO REPUBLIC

Details as Given by Passengers and Crew Ashore

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Captain Sealby and his officers and most of the crew of the wrecked steamship Republic were given a remarkable demonstration today when they landed at the pier of the White Star line from the revenue cutter Manhattan which transferred them from the revenue cutter Seneca which arrived last night from the scene of the disaster. A great throng of officers and seamen of the steamships of the White Star line in dock together with three or four hundred spectators were on the pier when Captain Sealby and his shipwrecked crew stepped down the gangway. Officers and seamen alike made a rush for Captain Sealby and lifting him to their shoulders carried him the whole length of the dock to the street, while the crowd yelled itself hoarse and the steamships blew trumpets.

Behind the captain the crowd carried aloft the brave Binns, the wireless telegraph operator. Captain Sealby was carried from the street to the office of the steamship company on the second floor of the pier where only on his earnest protest would the crowd cease its demonstration.

Few marine stories in recent years of marvelous escapes from the sea equal in dramatic intensity the graphic story that Captain Sealby told today of his escape from the Republic and his own and his crew's escape from the sinking of the Republic. The captain would not talk of the collision.

Captain Sealby's Story

Captain Sealby said: "It was about 8 o'clock Sunday night at which time the Republic was being towed by the tugboat Seneca. There was a rumbling and cracking at the after end of the boat. The stern was settling very rapidly and the sea was pretty bad. Then I said to Williams: 'Well what do you think about it, Williams?' and Williams answered: 'I don't think it will be a long way off, but it will be a long way off. I am ready to let her go. I looked at again and saw how fast she was going and I told Williams to burn the blue light. Then I fired my revolver five times to let the boats around me know that we were going off. Turning to Williams, I said: 'Let us take the lifeboats and get out of here. We can run from the bridge to the saloon deck burning our blue lights as we went and carrying an ordinary lantern. When we got to the deck the water was coming to where we stood. As we ran forward the stern was sinking so rapidly that the incline was slipping. When we got to the fore rigging we started to slip back and could hardly keep on deck. The last I saw of Williams he had crossed the port rail and was hanging over the side. I took to the rigging and went up as high as the masthead lights, a distance of many feet. I rested there and took out a blue light. It was wet and would not go off and I then fired the last shot from my revolver. The water had now caught up to me coming up under my great coat, and I floated. The revolver and my binocular held my coat down, acting as a sort of ballast. At this time the water was a roaring sea and I was in a whirlpool for some time and I was churned around until I came to the surface. I tried to pull off my coat, but could not. There was considerable debris about me and I managed to catch hold of some broken spar. Then I caught a large hatch-covering and pulled myself out on the hatch and lay on it spreadeagle fashion. The searchlights had been playing on the ship and were now playing on the spot where she went down. It seemed an interminable time until I saw her, but I managed to load my revolver again and fired it to attract their attention. The bullets had no effect and that kept them dry. I was getting weak, cold and numb. I just lay on the hatch and saved my strength until the last shouting at intervals. Then when the lights played on me I waved a towel which I had found floating near me and shortly after the boats picked me up and carried me aboard. I found Williams in that in the life-boat. I thought I had seen the last of him."

THE REPUBLIC'S PASSENGERS MAY RESUME THE CRUISE

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Passengers of the Republic who wish to resume the cruise will be cared for at hotels here in New York until Thursday or Friday, when they will be sent to Boston by train. At Boston they will be taken on board the Republic, which sailed from that city on Saturday for a cruise similar to that on which the Republic was bound when she collided with the Florida. These who do not care to embark on the Republic will be taken on board the Baltic, which sails from New York next Saturday and carried to Liverpool. At Liverpool they will be transferred to another steamship bound on the Mediterranean cruise. Some may sail on the Vanderland from New York tomorrow.

A White Star line official said that one result of the accident was the immediate revocation of the license of Captain Sealby. He will remain in New York for several days and then proceed to Liverpool. There he will be cared for before the board of trade for examination as to the cause of the sinking of the Republic. If the board of trade exonerates the captain from responsibility for the collision it will at once be restored, but should they find him to blame the revocation will stand.

"Jack" Binns, the faithful operator of the wrecked Republic, was a cheerful, wide-awake young fellow once more after a good night's rest, but he would touch but lightly on his experiences on the Republic pending his former statements to the officers of the company. As to the credit for what was done on the Republic he said that every bit was Captain Sealby's due. His own part had been a small one, Binns declared.

Steward Douglas of the Republic approached the group as Binns was talking.

"There's the man who saved my life," said Binns. "Last night was the first he had slept since the collision. He was with me all the time. He carried my messages back and forth for me and kept me supplied with food."

Told about the mention of his name in congress, he seemed pleased. "I know quite a number of those gentlemen," he said, "and some of them are very good friends of mine."

When Captain Sealby and Binns reached the main offices of the White Star line, in Bowling Green, several thousand persons who had gathered in the street in front of the offices hurried a cheer for them and soon disappeared for the deck.

Inside the White Star line offices the employees greeted him with more cheers and insisted upon a speech. The captain was compelled to give in and was placed on a table.

"I'm glad to see you all again," he said. "I am glad we are all here safely."

He then asked to be excused and retired with the officers of the line for a conference in which Binns took part.

Captain Rospioli of the Florida today visited the office of the Italian consul-general and the office of lawyers representing the agents of the Lloyd Italian line.

The condition of Mrs. Murphy of Grand Forks, N. D., who was injured in the collision and is now at St. Vincent's hospital, is said to be serious today, as her thigh was fractured and there was a wound in her side. Her friends were hopeful of her recovery.

ONE MORE DEATH

FROM REPUBLIC DISASTER

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—One more death was added to the list of fatalities resulting from the collision of the Republic and Florida off Nantucket lightship Saturday morning, when Eugene Lynch of Boston died in the hospital. Mr. Lynch, with his wife, occupied one of the staterooms on the Republic which was penetrated by the bow of the Florida. Mrs. Lynch was instantly killed and her body was still on board the Republic when that liner sank. Mr. Lynch was a wholesale liquor dealer, residing in Dorchester, and with Mrs. Lynch had started on the Republic for a two months tour of Italy, intending to visit the earthquake district in Sicily also.

When the Florida's steel bow tore its way into the staterooms on the Republic Mr. Lynch's leg and thigh were broken, he was internally injured and bruised about the head. It was with great difficulty that he was removed from the Republic to the Florida, and when it became necessary to again transfer the passengers from the Florida to the Baltic he expressed a wish to be allowed to stay on the Florida, saying: "If I am to die, let me die here."

His condition was then regarded as critical, and the Rev. Fr. Morris of Trenton, one of the passengers of the Republic, administered the last rites to Mr. Lynch before leaving the Florida. The Hawaiian ship's doctor on board the Florida gave the injured Bostonian constant attention on the way from Nantucket to New York, and the fact that Mrs. Lynch was killed in the collision was concealed from him. As Mr. Lynch was transferred from the Florida he requested that all those on the ship should receive some gift as a remembrance from him. Several of his friends from Boston saw to it that he had every possible care.

BOY RESCUED

DROGGED OUT OF DANGER BY DOG

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—If Carnegie medals went to dogs, Irish, a dog named "Buster" would surely get one.

When little George Plunkett, nicknamed "Buster," was abandoned on a railroad crossing at South Norwalk, Conn., yesterday afternoon, directly in the path of the Pittsfield express, Irish grabbed the rope of the sled in his teeth and easily did what was impossible for the strength of the children.

He pulled the sled and "Buster" from under the cowcatcher of the engine just in the nick of time.

The train was stopped, and when the crew ran back they found the big brute adroitly licking the tears from the child's face.

Irish is owned by John Davis, while "Buster" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Plunkett, of River street, South Norwalk. The passengers of the train, mostly wealthy New Yorkers on their way to Lenox, made up a fat purse for the find and the brave dog.

WHITE MOUNTAIN RESERVE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The house committee today on agriculture agreed to report to the house favorably the White Mountain bill providing for a committee for the establishment of the White Mountain and Appalachian mountain reserve. The action of the committee is believed to be a great victory for the advocates of this reserve for the conservation of the navigability of rivers and for the conservation of forests.

IN POLICE COURT BOARD OF TRADE BITTER FIGHT

Fines Imposed in Two Theft Cases Devising Means for the Local Trade Looked for in California Legislature

There was a big jump in the price of milk this morning or at least Samuel Mulloox, a young man who yesterday stole four pints of milk from Joseph Chenelle, was inclined to think so, for in court this morning he was charged at the rate of $7.50 a quart.

Yesterday afternoon while Chenelle was delivering milk to his customers, Mulloox came along and stole four pints of milk. He had drunk the contents of two of the bottles when Patrolman Charles Hamilton put in an appearance and placed him under arrest.

Mulloox pleaded guilty and was fined $15. Judge Hadley in commenting on the case said that milkmen have got to be protected as they have to leave their goods exposed in the street while they are delivering milk to their customers. The court handed this form of larceny as one of the meanest and most contemptible kinds.

John F. Walsh attempted to steal a horse blanket belonging to the Lowell Co-operative company yesterday afternoon, but he was caught in the act by Manager Charles Rushworth. The latter took possession of the blanket and held Walsh until the police were notified and the patrol wagon arrived.

In court this morning Walsh pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and larceny. He said that he had been drinking and did not know what he was doing, and added that he had never been arrested before.

Judge Hadley fined Walsh $15 and after passing sentence said that it was a mean thing to rob a horse of his covering on a cold day.

The cases of the licensees of the Old Washington Tavern, charged with illegally keeping liquor on Nov. 8, 1908; and John C. McLaughlin and Owen J. Carney, charged with illegally keeping liquor at the Lakewood hotel in Dorchester, on August 22, 1908, which were scheduled for trial this morning were again postponed owing to the fact that the government was not ready for trial.

Lawyer Nathan D. Pratt, counsel for the defendants, was ready for trial, but was unable to do so because of the assignment on the 29th.

Used Profane Language

Joseph Hiskot pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with profanity and was fined $25. Joseph Hennessy, for the government, and Edward Tierney for the defense.

Drunken Offenders

William Fallon, Harry Marshall and James Martin, second offenders, were each fined $10.

One first offender was fined $2 and two drunkards were released by the probation officer.

COLD WEATHER

Caused Suffering to the Survivors

MESSINA, Jan. 26.—Cold weather accompanied by snow has added to the suffering of the earthquake survivors but still the work of relief is being conducted with energy. Edmund Billings, representative of the Massachusetts relief committee, with the assistance of Gen. Mazza, the Italian commander of the earthquake zone, is actively engaged in distributing supplies. Mr. Billings has placed $4,000 at the disposal of the Duchess of Aosta for relief purposes.

MAYOR WHITE

NAMES NEW MEMBERS OF BOARD OF HEALTH

LAWRENCE, Jan. 26.—Dr. Peter L. McKim, Dr. H. B. Bousier were appointed to fill the positions of Dr. Edman and A. D. V. Bourget respectively in the board of health last night by Mayor White at the meeting of the board of aldermen. The terms of the latter two have expired so the action of the mayor is not out of the ordinary powers of the office.

"In a few days some one will be appointed to fill the place of Member Fennell," said the mayor. Member Fennell's term does not expire for two years, but the mayor said, to a reporter that he would put him out of the office. When asked if he would prefer to resign, Fennell said: "Mayor White said he was going to consult the city solicitor about that."

For the second time since his election the mayor's choice for city physician—Dr. George W. Dow—was turned down. Two of the members voted for his confirmation, but voted against and two men did not vote.

THE SOUTH

PUTS A CHECK ON UNWRITTEN LAW

COLUMBUS, Miss., Jan. 26.—Ignoring the "unwritten law" defense, the grand jury of Lowndes county yesterday returned an indictment for murder against Charles R. Smith, the largest cotton planter in North Mississippi, who on January 15 shot to death E. A. Laurent, of Nashville, a young traveling salesman of St. Louis, for the alleged betrayal of his daughter, Estelle.

Wealthy in her own right, Miss Smith, 28 years of age, is an accomplished and attractive young woman. Finishing at the school of the Convent of the Visitation at Mobile, she spent a year at Mount St. Vincent, on the Hudson, and two years at a convent conducted by the Dominicans in St. Louis.

The tragedy occurred at Artesia, a railroad point 12 miles from here, near which place the six thousand acres of prime land constituting the Smith plantation. It was at the hands of some Smith home last June that Laurent, through the invitation of Miss Smith, came to the plantation.

Miss Smith and her father, a member of the Smith family, is reportedly killed by the prosecution that "patronage of Laurent's attention to Miss Smith was the motive of the shooting. This is indignantly denied by the defense."

BITTER FIGHT

Looked for in California Legislature

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 26.—There is a mysterious silence on the part of the authors of anti-Japanese bills introduced in the senate and assembly against which President Roosevelt has ordered his protest but it is hinted by friends of the measure that this is only "the calm before the storm" that is expected to break over the assembly on Wednesday for which day the Drew bill prohibiting ownership of land by aliens is made a special order of business.

Senator Sanford, whose measure is similar to Drew's is willing to change one clause so that it shall read that no alien who is not eligible to citizenship by the laws of the United States shall acquire title, etc.

Nathan Ogden of San Francisco believes that Gov. Gillett will sanction his bill if introduced in the assembly yesterday. It is a memorial to congress asking that a debt equal in strength to any other nation on the Pacific coast be maintained in western states to insure protection of the coast from attack from any other power.

SUPREME COURT

Hears Arguments on N. H. Road's Appeal

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—Arguments were heard in the supreme court today on the appeal of the New Haven system from the decree of a single justice of the supreme court ordering the company to dispose of its holdings in Massachusetts trolley companies by July 1 next. J. H. Denton appearing for the railroad company argued that the decree is ambiguous and not specific enough. Attorney General Malone for the state declared that the decree was unambiguous and that the company should obey its spirit or be declared in contempt.

The Boston & Northern Railroad Co. showed a very friendly spirit toward the state in bringing about this extra patronage to what Lowell is rightly entitled. The whole matter comes down to the saving of dollars to the purchasing public, with one object in view and that is to make Lowell a bigger, a better, a busier trading center. If the merchants will only take hold of this matter, Lowell will be benefited by hundreds of thousands of dollars each year. Every merchant is cordially invited to what will be a very interesting meeting, and will help along a good cause. The call should cause the merchants of the city, large and small, to show their interest in the matter by their presence.

THE LODGE BILL FINDS FATHER

SON HAD NEVER SEEN HIM BEFORE

CINCINNATI, Jan. 26.—Albert H. Clark, newspaper talker with his father at Mayville, Ky., for the first time since he was born. The meeting ended a search that had extended for years over every state of the Union.

"I thought for many years that my father was dead," said Clark. "My mother died when I was very young, and my sister and I were raised at the Cincinnati Orphan Asylum. I have a faint recollection of being told that my father was away and that nothing more had been heard from him. This always impressed me as being very strange, and when I became older I started out to find him, working my way from state to state until I have covered every part of this country."

"Just when I was beginning to think that the search was fruitless I learned in a very brief, but telling, way, that he was still alive. Some weeks ago an employee was taken ill suddenly in a Chicago railway store. He was told that he might die and was asked for names of relatives. After being urged for a long time he stated that his name was Richard H. Clark and that he had a sister, Mrs. J. Williams in Mayville, Ky."

The Jeweler, the employer of the stricken man, wrote to her and told the circumstances of the case. Wondering if he were the man that he represented himself to be, she sent the letter to Ernest Daulton, 528 West Ninth street, this city, and asked him to investigate. Daulton did so through a friend working for the Chicago Telephone Co. verified the truth of the story. The man was furnished with transportation to Cincinnati and remained here several days and then journeyed to Mayville, where he is now very ill. While here he asked Daulton to find his two children—my sister and myself."

HAS NOTHING TO SAY ABOUT SENATE'S ACTION

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Frederick Wallis recently appointed superintendent of insurance for Gov. Hughes when asked today if he had any statement to make regarding the action of the state senate last night in adopting a resolution calling for correspondence in connection with his insurance record said that he had not had time as yet to digest the news from Albany. When he had acquainted himself with what had been done he said he might have something to say regarding the matter.

CITY COUNCIL

WILL CONSIDER THE ESTIMATES TONIGHT

The common council will hold a regular meeting and the board of aldermen will meet in special session this evening when estimates of the different departments for 1909 will be presented for their consideration. It is also expected that the question of the municipal register will be taken up, and that the question of the removal of the assistant superintendent of state aid, Miss Mary C. Brennan, will be touched upon. The chances are that the mayor's appointment to the position may be made this evening, but the mayor would not say so today.

PANAMA LEBEL CASE

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—When the federal grand jury today resumed its investigations into the matters of libelous publications in the New York World concerning the Panama canal purchase, a number of World employees, who were present, were excused until Monday next, and John E. Weller, a reporter on the New York American, was allowed to appear. Large bundles to all appearances made up of files of a newspaper were taken into the jury room.

CARE OF CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Children of normal minds who should be removed from their homes should be cared for in families wherever practicable, but in abnormal child should be placed in a children's institution.

This was the slogan today of numerous delegates at the conference on the care of dependent children.

The speakers included Miss Josephine M. Griswold of Hartford, secretary of the Connecticut Children's Aid society, and several others.

The opening was welcomed by several speakers that child care institutions should be conducted on the principles of the United States Commissioner of Education. Brown advocated supervision by state educational authorities over the educational work of orphan asylums and similar institutions.

GAMBLING EVILS

Discussed in Strong Speech by Senator Davis Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—The evils attending gambling in the products of the soil by the sale of futures on exchanges was the subject of a passionate speech delivered by Senator Jeff Davis in the U. S. senate today. Mr. Davis advocated the passage of a bill introduced by him to penalize the use of the mails, the telephone or the telegraph for the purpose of conveying gambling propositions between buyer and seller.

After a review of the passage of this measure Mr. Davis denounced what he declared to be an evil of "money power" and incidentally touched upon the policy of maintaining a protective tariff as a part of a system which he declared was for the suppression of the rights of the people.

"Moneying conditions in Rome at the time of Julius Caesar he described the death of Caesar as the price of Caesar's empire and service for the poor, declaring:

"Would to God we had a Caesar in the White House today."

At the conclusion of his narrative of the acts of the Roman emperor in securing laws to suppress money and in obtaining legislation for the benefit of the poor, Mr. Davis declared that the people of the United States are surrounded by the money power, twenty-three knife wounds pierced his body, Senator Davis said:

"This, sir, is a brief history of Rome and its great reformer, illustrating the terrible fate that lies in the path of any man who seeks to shake loose from the grasp of the money power the vast masses of wealth. These stock gamblers, these stock jobbers that attempt to control the destinies of the government."

"Ah, the money power may be pressing the American people too far. In some evil hour, in some unguarded moment, a match may be touched to the fuse that connects with the lightning of discontent and dismay that is planted beneath this republic, and I shudder for the consequences."

"I read a little story in a New York paper recently illustrating aptly, I think, the recklessness and wanton disregard of the people's rights by the money power of the government. It is said that a beautiful Italian girl with considerable property married a gambler, believing that he was all that her young heart had pictured him to be. Soon she discovered that he was addicted to that terrible vice, the liquor habit. Their home soon became a drunkard's home, her property was squandered, poverty in all its hideous forms knocked at their door, until finally she was compelled to turn to her husband for help. Her husband, however, was finally brought into court and tried, and to the judge she said:

"Judge, he finally suggested that I sell myself for his support, he pressed me too far, judge, and I killed him."

"Ah, the money power of this government is trading upon dangerous ground. They do not know, or else they do not care, that the people are already ground down with taxation and the weight of government until their backs are almost broken beneath its load. They do not seem to appreciate the fact that in his power and strength 'Old Man People' may rise and smite them. I would not be an alarmist, sir, but I predict here and hereafter that conditions will change that unless the Congress of the United States turns a listening ear to the lamentations of an outraged public, that within ten years there may be another Shenandoah Valley, there may be another Gettysburg; the red broom of war may sweep this government as it has never been swept before, and when that day shall break in all its fury, who to the crowd working the field of legislation that has laid these grievous burdens upon the backs of the crowd working the field of human endeavor?"

Speaking of the "oligarchy of the wealth built by legislation and legislation aimed at having reduced to almost zero the laborers of portions of the country the senator continued:

"This is a dark picture. I know what the result may be. For the past twelve months the country has been regaled with an exhaustive and learned argument as to whether or not the president of the United States had the right to discharge a lot of kinked headed niggers from the army, who in a drunken riot, shot up a helpless and defenceless people. And more recently we have been urged to increase the salary of all our public officials, that they might more closely imitate royalty."

Deficit of $150,000,000

"We stand today face to face with a deficit in our public treasury of $150,000,000. Our government is bankrupt, yet we are appropriating the money of the people at the rate of perhaps a million dollars an hour. The majority in congress seem to be drunk on the wine of success. They fiddle and dance and make merry while Rome burns. I say to you, Mr. President, that it is time we were eating a humble and that the congress of the United States legislate for a little while in the interest of 'Old Man People.' He is a good old man, I would not have said that before, but I have seen him with my own eyes, venerable with long flowing white hair. You have each met him. Simple and candid, cheerful and helpful, he looks to this congress for some relief, and I ask the senators here to lend an attentive ear to his demands before it is everlasting too late."

He declared that the sum of 1907

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY A LIFE SAVER.

Never before was the efficacy of wireless telegraphy in saving lives at sea so forcibly demonstrated as in the disaster which befell the White Star liner steamer Republic. The great liner received her death blow early Saturday morning and began to fill with water immediately, her water-tight compartments keeping her barely afloat until the pressure became too great and they yielded, at 8.30 o'clock Sunday night.

Had there been no such thing as wireless telegraphy the entire passengers and crew might have perished, for not even the Florida by which the vessel was rammed might have found her but for the wireless messages flashed in all directions calling for help. No less than seven ocean liners were called to the spot, and when all had assembled, the scene must have resembled a great marine funeral, and so in reality it was—the last of the steamer Republic. But were it not for the wireless telegraphy the loss of life might have been even more terrible than that of La Bourgoyne, over a decade ago, in whose fate was recorded one of the worst marine disasters of modern times.

The experience of the Republic and the demonstration of the great value of wireless telegraphy will increase the faith in that wonderful invention, and will make more illustrious the name of Marconi.

Henceforth will the death rate, due to marine disasters, be reduced by more than half, for no matter where a steamer may go, either in the Atlantic or the Pacific, she will almost always be within easy call of several others; and this adds to the security in case of disaster.

It is now in order for all governments to insist that every steamer of any importance or that embarks upon a voyage of any considerable distance shall be equipped with apparatus for wireless telegraphy. Insurance companies, we can readily see, will hereafter insist upon this life-saving apparatus and will discriminate against the vessels that venture to sea without it. It is fully as essential as life boats and in most cases of accident a thousand times more useful. Of what account would the life boats of the Republic have been had the passengers been forced to that resort? The 800 passengers would have had a poor chance in life boats to wait until picked up by some passing vessel. That might have been their fate but for the wireless. The people who go to sea owe a debt of gratitude to Marconi that the world can never repay.

MORE JAPANESE WAR TALK.

It is a mighty queer situation we are in relative to the Japanese. The state of California has set out to enact a number of measures of various kinds to restrict the rights and powers of Japanese immigrants in that state. One measure has for its object to segregate the Japanese in one district in Californian cities. Another is intended to prevent them from acquiring ownership in land, and another to restrict their rights to citizenship.

These measures, reported by the Tokio press, have created such a sensation in that capital that the emperor had to order a censorship to prevent the publication of inflammatory articles.

In spite of this, however, the war talk has been revived not only in Japan but on this side the Pacific.

President Roosevelt has appealed to the governor of California to oppose the passage of these measures in the interests of international peace, and that official has consented to use his influence against their enactment. But the people are determined. They want these measures made law or else they want Japanese immigration stopped. The president has already taken steps that may check Japanese immigration or else divert it to some other state.

The danger lies in the possibility of California by discriminating against the Japanese, violating some treaty with the Orientals.

The federal government in making treaties cannot abridge the sovereign rights of any state, nor can any state legally violate a treaty that is warranted by the constitution. In spite of all this, however, the state of California by exercising its legislative power can embroil this nation in a war with Japan, the latter's object being to secure for immigrants of that nationality the same treatment as accorded immigrants from European countries.

The situation is one that requires prompt and tactful diplomatic treatment by representatives of this country.

MR. BRYAN PROPOSED FOR U. S. SENATOR.

The legislature and governor of Nebraska, being democratic, can pass whatever democratic measures they please. One of the measures now before the legislature is intended to make William J. Bryan a United States senator. It provides for the Oregon method of selection by popular vote.

That is a rather dubious method to adopt in a state that has a republican majority. The democratic legislature could elect him without any recommendation by the voters.

The republican minority in the legislature has opposed the bill, and it is, therefore, projected on party lines, a matter that is likely to militate against the object of the measure at the polls.

Mr. Bryan would make a good senator and would keep popular reformers always to the front. His election, however, is by no means certain under the arrangement by which it is sought.

In addition to this the legislature has under consideration another measure that emanates from Mr. Bryan. It provides for a penalty of fine or imprisonment or both for any individual, firm or corporation convicted of coercing voters about election time by threats of closing down any place of business in case any particular candidate or political party shall be victorious at the polls.

This kind of coercion has frequently been exercised, and no doubt Mr. Bryan has ample evidence that it was widely exercised in the recent presidential election.

SEEN AND HEARD

They do tell that up Lawrence street way there's a speak-easy in operation, and the proprietor, it is alleged, is reaping quite a rich harvest. He is using all the cunning and diplomacy that he can muster, and the following little story demonstrates how careful he is in his management of the place:

Last Sunday, it seems, six or seven men entered his place in a "bunch." They had their thirst with them, and they were resorting to his house for the purpose of getting drunk in the ceremony of food.

The vigilant and diplomatic proprietor met them at the door and this is what he is alleged to have said: "Are you fellows trying to put me out of business? Haven't you any better sense than to come here in a bunch. If a cop saw you fellows marching up here together he would arrest me. It would be an easy matter for him to prove traffic and I would have to pay a fine."

"No you can't come in here in bunches. If you want a drink you will have to go back to the street and come in one by one."

WHAT THREATENS

O little Mary, plain of face,
With eyes of faded blue,
Some day some large, impulsive man
Will fall in love with you.
Will swear you are the very miss
His empty heart is full of.
The one and only girl for him,
Or let us hope he will.

Some moment when you least expect
A lover he will stray
Across your path and after that
Refuse to go away.
Your very presence he'll declare
Will cause his heart to thrill,
And make him for the first time live,
Or let us hope he will.

With praises he will overwhelm
Your modest maiden heart,
Will promise death, and death alone,
You two can ever part.
Will write a sonnet to your eyes
With fervor if not skill
To prove they are the brightest yet,
Or let us hope he will.

And, little Mary, plain of face,
Adorned with charms so few,
You'll half believe his protests
The things he says are true.
And when you have been hitched for life
Your dreams to fulfill
You'll ever after happy live,
Or let us hope he will.

In the a. b. c. class in the pond street school the teacher in the first primary class has established a very original and unique way of acquainting her little ones with the fact that the world is round. Finding it impossible to impress them by map illustrations she read upon novel idea of verse that reads something like this fashion:
Ching Foo, Chinese boy, upside down,
That's the way he looks to me.
When I'm lying in bed at night,
Playing in the sun is he.

A thought for today:
"We rise by the things that are under Our feet."
By what we have mastered of good or gain,
By the pride deposited and the passion
slain,
And the vanquished ills that we hourly meet.

25 CURES NEURALGIC ANODYNE COSTS.

Why, Oh why, do people suffer from neuralgia pains when they can be quickly cured for a few cents.

Probably, when in that agonizing condition, they cannot think of the old, time tried and standard specific for neuralgia which is for sale everywhere at only 25 cents a large bottle.

NEURALGIC ANODYNE is a friend indeed in time of need, for it can be used internally and externally, and besides neuralgia, it cures cramps in the stomach, rheumatism, pleurisy, nervous headache, lame back, or an irritating cough. Keep it in the house all the time. If you don't know about NEURALGIC ANODYNE, ask your neighbor.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mr. Spofford's successor at Washington as assistant librarian appears to be a man of mark, says The Dial. A. P. C. Griffin, formerly chief of the division of bibliography, is endowed in no small measure with some of those qualities of mind and memory that distinguished his predecessor. No one has been more in demand on the part of congressmen and others engaged in "getting up" subjects for oratorical or argumentative literary presentation. We are told that so much has bibliography become the warp and woof of his being that his brain is now a better and more complete catalogue than any the library possesses. Without the slightest hesitation he is likely to be called upon for information on any conceivable subject, but he is said to be unflinching in his resources. No library in the world enjoys the services of one who takes greater pains to satisfy the public; and this unflinching zeal, and the kindness with which books or other material, or verbal information, are forthcoming at the applicant's request, are a constant source of surprise to foreigners. The British Museum, the National Library in Paris, and the great German and Munich libraries are justly praised for the careful service they render to all admitted to their privileges; but it is conceded by those who have worked in libraries both here and abroad that our methods are simpler and better, and our librarians more honest less bureaucratic than those of Europe. It is the quick intelligence, the ready sympathy, and the well stored minds of men and women like Mr. Griffin that help to make the practical efficiency of our libraries unequalled.

Springfield's oldest active school teacher, Dwight Clark, principal of grammar school, has just observed his 75th birthday anniversary, and notwithstanding his advanced years he is at his school daily to attend to his duties. Apparently as vigorous as when much younger, he has been in charge of schools in Pelham, East Longmeadow, Leverett and Old Hadley and Springfield, where, previous to the eighties, he was for four years supervisor of music. Mr. Clark's ambition is to be able to teach until he reaches the age of 80.

The First State Normal school at Kirksville, Mo., will soon have a farm in connection with the school, in order to give the students the practical training in agriculture. Fifteen thousand dollars will be spent in acquiring an 80 acre tract and in erecting the necessary buildings for the young farmers. It is planned to construct on this farm an ideal country home which will be occupied by a number of students. There will, likewise, be an ideal barn, pig pen and chicken house. The aim of the farm management will be thorough training in dairying and poultry raising under the most favorable conditions. All of the carpenter work done on the houses and barns and all of the plowing and cultivating will be done by students, who will receive compensation for their services. President Kirk says that it will be a kind of co-operative institution which will give the needy students a chance to earn a livelihood.

Captain Alice M. Cobb of the Boston Salvation Army, who has volunteered for missionary work in India, will sail from New York with other Salvation Army volunteer missionaries for Bombay by way of London. At Bombay the missionaries will be under the direction of Commander Booth-Tucker, son-in-law of General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army.

Two hundred and twenty-four clergymen of Greater Boston have affixed their signatures to a remonstrance against further increase of the navy, and the document has been forwarded to congress. Among those who signed were Rev. Alexander Mann, D. D., of Trinity church; Rev. A. Z. Conrad, D. D., of Park street church; Rev. James H. Barker, D. D., secretary of the American board; Rev. Paul Kevero Frothingham of Arlington street church; Bishop W. F. Mallon of the Methodist church; and Rev. James De Normandie, D. D., Rev. O. P. Gifford, D. D., Rev. L. B. Bates, D. D., Rev.

CARRIE NATION

WAS PELTED WITH EGGS IN LONDON.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who is attempting to deliver a series of lectures here, met with a very hostile reception at the Canterbury Music hall last night. She was pelted with eggs, one of them striking her in the face. From the very beginning the audience maintained a chorus of boos and hisses. Her manager vainly appealed for fair play, and Mrs. Nation was obliged to quit the house under police protection.

THREE DEAD

AS RESULT OF FIRE IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—A fire that broke out at an early hour yesterday in the residence of W. C. Slack, treasurer of the Bell Telephone Co., of Canada, resulted in the death of three of Mr. Slack's daughters, Beatrice, aged 16; Marguerite, aged 12; and Ruth, aged nine, while Mrs. Slack and two other daughters, Elizabeth and Gertrude, are in the hospital, the former suffering from prostration and the latter from burns.

MIND RESTORED

BY LETTER WRITTEN BY HIS DAUGHTER.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 25.—E. Brooks Dow of Chelsea, Mass., convicted in the county court here of being of unsound mind, regained his reason yesterday upon seeing a letter from his daughter, Miss Myrtle L. Dow of Chelsea.

This letter, addressed to Deputy County Clerk Beavers, and asking for particulars about her father's affliction, confirms his story that he has a daughter in Chelsea and an aunt in Medford, Mass.

At the time of his trial he seemed to have hallucinations about these relatives. The subject of religion also weighed heavily on his mind.

The news that his daughter had written overwhelmed him with joy. He wrote his daughter a letter and enclosed it with Beavers' reply. In the letter he expressed a wish to be back in Chelsea.

Beavers assures the daughter that her father is again rational. Among those who have observed the sudden complete restoration of reason to Dow is the father, William McKain.

A MILLIONAIRE

ATTEMPTED TO BRAIN A LAWYER.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 26.—Louis Kingman, the millionaire plow manufacturer, created a scene in the chancery court here yesterday, where he was the defendant in a suit for separation brought by his wife, Evelyn Kingman, formerly of Boston.

Taking exceptions to a statement by Ira Covey, the opposing counsel, Kingman shrieked, "I'll brain you for that, Covey," and catching up a tumbler, attempted to hit him on the head. The tumbler was knocked out of his hand by his counsel, who finally succeeded in quieting him.

Mrs. Kingman was allowed $55 a week permanent alimony and the assessed costs of litigation. Kingman may appeal.

$1200 BOOTY.

WAS SECURED BY BURGLARS IN GLOUCESTER.

GLOUCESTER, Jan. 26.—The footprints of a No. 9 shoe in the snow, covering the lawn, is the only clue the police have to discover the identity of a burglar who broke into the home of Mr. S. D. Sullivan Sunday night and carried away $1200 in booty.

Although the break must have occurred some time last night, it was not until yesterday afternoon that the news leaked out. The burglars were visiting in Beverly and returned to their home in the section on Washington street, where are situated the finest residences in the city, to discover their loss.

A REPUBLICAN

Chosen Head of Boston, Aldermen

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The aldermen, the third ballot yesterday afternoon, elected Frederick J. Brand permanent chairman. Daniel J. Connelly, democratic alderman from ward seven, broke the deadlock by casting his vote with the six republicans, thereby giving the chairmanship to a republican for the year 1909.

This is the fourth year in succession that, owing to the dissensions among the democratic members, a republican has been chairman of the board of aldermen, despite the democratic majority. The first break came in ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's first year, when, as a result of the flip of a coin, Draper, republican, and Cauley, democratic, divided the year. The republican having the first part and the democratic the end. Alderman Berwin presided the next year, and last year Louis M. Clark carried off the honor.

Donnelly's vote was the surprise of the day. The republicans were dumfounded, as Alderman Brand, a republican member, is the one least in favor with the mayor's office. The surprise was equally great to J. Frank O'Hara, who had every reason to believe that before the aldermen stopped voting the republicans would join with Alderman Attridge and elect him chairman.

REP. CONLEY

OPPOSED TO BILL TO PUBLISH PERSONS' NAMES

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—A number of minor matters were heard by the committee on legal affairs immediately after the session of the legislature yesterday afternoon.

Representative Denny of Worcester spoke in favor of his bill to oblige the displaying of the national flag as well as the state flag on all public institutions of the commonwealth as well as the state house. He read a letter from Department Commander Roe, endorsing his bill. There was no opposition and the hearing closed.

Representative Dorman of Lynn urged that the Boston Y. M. C. A. law school should have a copy of the blue book annually.

The bill of Representative Martin Quinn of Swampscott to prohibit the publication by owners of the poor of the list of persons who receive aid was advocated by Mr. Quinn. Representative George of Revere and Representative Conley of Lowell.

Past Chief Caddell

A Special mention should be made of the "Address to the Ladies," by Past Chief Peter Caddell. Although Past Chief Alex Ray was absent, the address, for this day, but was undeniably absent, however, Past Caddell performed this function in a manner that earned for him hearty and prolonged applause. The decorations were confined to the putting of the hall where the two distinguished guests of the evening were seated. While in a preliminary program, we have a tribute of the immortal Scotch lark.

Following the supper there was a social dancing and among the top choreographed pleasures were typical dances of Bonnie Scotland which gave enjoyment for a few hours and after terminating a hour time, everybody fastened the band to appreciate the following program, first to son, and singing of Father.

"It is the night, I ken her born,
That's the night, in the bit sea breeze
She shines as bright as yolk o' lan-
But, by my sooth, she'll wait a wee
We are no here, we're noe that far
But just a blawie in our hearts."

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—A fire of $15,000 was caused by a loss of broke out in a garage on Boylston street between Gloucester and Bedford streets today. Fearing a larger fire, the fire department closed the fire on Jan. 25, when several hundred autos were destroyed. Park square, the district fire chief ordered two alarms. The blaze was brought under control. A fireman and the Stevens Dureau Co. were injured while the building was burned in place.

Seven Negroes Said to Have Killed Man

INDIANOLA, Mo., Jan. 1. — Following the killing of an Iowa slave on Sunday night at B. A. Bradley's plantation, near the army headquarters of seven negroes, five men and two women, charged with having been in the crime, the most intense excitement prevails in that vicinity, and the killing of several if not all the negroes is being earnestly sought for.

Bradley was sent from prison for visiting the cabin of one of his servants on his plantation, who it was stated Bradley had expressed a wish to whip.

Investigating Fire That Destroyed Church

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The state and local police have begun an investigation of the fire which yesterday destroyed the church of the Blessed Sacrament, the Catholic mission church in the Pleasant Hills district of Saugus. The church is a part of the Maplewood parish, the pastor of which is the Rev. T. J. Holland of Malden, and was a small building on Adams avenue.

About 8:30 yesterday morning William Eckland gave the alarm. By the time the firemen reached the scene the flames were leaping out of the roof. Those who first reached the building discovered that the rear door had been forced open.

One theory is that tramps spent the night in the church, and another that thieves entered to steal vestments and upon leaving set fire to conceal the thefts.

The Rev. Edward C. Mitchell, assistant pastor, one of the first to arrive, said he believed the fire was incendiary. Chief of Police Thompson of Saugus said last night there was some suspicion that the church might have been set afire by some one having a spite against it.

The fire made good headway, turned off the roof, destroyed all of the interior, and by noon only the walls were left standing.

The flames, including the destruction of the altar, ornaments and vestments, is estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000. The church of the Blessed Sacrament was built 10 years ago.

$80,000 DAMAGE
Caused by Fire in Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26.—The Richardson building at the corner of Broad street and Viaduct was destroyed by fire early today at a loss of about $80,000. As the flames for a while threatened to spread to an adjoining structure, a general alarm was sounded calling out the entire fire fighting apparatus of the city. The firemen by hard work, however, were able to check the flames. The building was occupied by the Mower-Hobart Co., dealers in office supplies and stationery, whose stock was destroyed, but was covered by $10,000 insurance. E. W. Allen & Co., printers, also sustained a considerable loss.

BILLERICA MAN
NEARLY SUFFOCATED BY FUMES OF COAL GAS

Owen Murningham, a man about 70 years of age, had a narrow escape from being suffocated by fumes of coal gas escaping from a stove in the kitchen of his home in Pollard street, North Billerica, yesterday. The old man was found unconscious on a sofa in the kitchen by Jeremiah O'Brien when the latter called at the house to get some milk.

Murningham was hurried to St. John's hospital in Lowell and is now resting comfortably.

Mr. Murningham lives alone and it is thought that Sunday night after putting some coal on the stove he lay down on the sofa in the kitchen and fell asleep. The stove lids were tipped and undoubtedly the gaseous fumes escaping through the top of the stove overcame the man while he was asleep. But for the timely arrival of Mr. O'Brien, Murningham would, in all probability, have been suffocated.

To Fight Moths in New England

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—In the agricultural department appropriation bill reported to the house yesterday, there is an increase of $1,208,820 over the amount given the department for its work during the present year, although the amount reported, $12,850,226, is less by $1,739,700 than was asked for by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

The largest increase in the appropriation is that of about $208,000 for the bureau of plant industry, the increase being due chiefly to the need for demonstration work on reclamation projects and to extension of the cotton boll weevil experiment work in the southern states. Ten thousand dollars are appropriated for experimenting on new sources of paper manufacture. Part of this sum will be expended in making paper from corn stalks. The total appropriated for the bureau is $1,029,736.

Another large increase is that of $75,000 for seed distribution, making the total amount for this purpose $2,720,226. There is an increase of $50,000 in the amount appropriated for control over the gypsy moth in New England, making the total for this purpose $300,000.

For the bureau of animal industry the amount appropriated is $1,422,559, as against $1,039,559 given for the current financial year. For the forestry bureau the amount recommended by the committee is $1,846,000, being an increase from the $3,795,299 given last year.

KILLED HIMSELF
Man Had Been Held for Debt

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 26.—A prisoner for debt and despondent over his troubles Favis Abella, a Syrian of Somersworth, committed suicide in the Strafford county jail about 4 yesterday afternoon, by hanging himself with a strip of cloth to the hammock support in his compartment of the receiving cell. When discovered by Harry Hill, a trustee, who went to his cell to give him a drink of water, Abella was breathing. Hill quickly notified the physician Stephen Young, Dr. Young arrived ten minutes later, but Abella's respiration had ceased. The county authorities were notified and the medical referee, Dr. Keay of Rochester, was summoned. The hammock arm was only about four feet above the floor, and Abella was found in a half sitting posture with the cloth made into a rope and noosed around his neck, and his feet resting on the floor.

Abella was about 40 years old and has a four-year-old daughter, living in Somersworth. His wife also lives in Somersworth. He had been in the Strafford county jail about a month, in the care of a family of $25 a week. Last December Abella was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Casler of Somersworth on a debt warrant, issued by Mr. Dowdell of the Syrian firm of Dowdell & Mohab of Somersworth. The claim amounted, it is said, to $15. Abella, during a month's confinement, had appeared despondent, and been overheard several times by a jail attendant to express a fear of being electrocuted. City Physician Young states. These expressions are taken as indicating a partially demented condition.

Abella came to Somersworth, it is said, from Sebago, Me., and was a member of the Masonic lodge there.

MIND A BLANK
Harvard Man is Held in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Edward Curtis Knox, said to be a divinity student at an Episcopal theological seminary at Cambridge, Mass., and also said to be the son of the late Rev. Charles Knox, who was an Episcopal rector at Lakewood, N. J., is being cared for at a police station until his relatives can be located.

Knox, who is about 23 years of age, told the police that he was unable to account for his presence in Chicago. All he remembered, he said, was that last Saturday he boarded a Grand Trunk railway train for Montreal. He said he was probably suffering from a nervous breakdown from overstudy.

A silver watch, which with an overcoat, a purse, some torn paper money, a telegram and other articles was found on the bank of the Chicago river, Knox identified as his own. The telegram read:

"I have today for Prescott. Understand everything. Telegram to Dearborn street station, Chicago, directions. Wonderful revelations."

The telegram was written on a regular blank, but not signed. The Grand Trunk railroad uses Dearborn street station as its Chicago terminus.

CONC. AMES
INTERESTED IN SURVEY OF MERRIMACK RIVER

The agitation for the improvement of the Merrimack river is endorsed by Congressman Ames of Lowell. When the hearing was recently held in this city on the question of building locks and a dam, Lowell business men were unable to attend, but the board of trade of that city forwarded a letter endorsing the project, and this was sent to the army engineers. Since then Congressman Ames has become interested in the matter, and he has arranged for a survey of the Merrimack channel between Haverhill and Lowell.

If the river is improved, Mr. Ames says that coal and other bulky freight could be shipped at lower rates. It is said that the railroad would oppose the projected improvements—Haverhill Gazette.

TEACH BOXING IN SCHOOLS
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—In accordance with a suggestion made by his physician, Dr. Philip F. O'Hanlon, Coroner Julius Harbinger announced that he has prepared a bill which will have introduced in the legislature providing for boxing instruction in the public schools. The bill reads: "The public schools in the city of New York shall have among their exercises set definite boxing studies for boys so as to develop bodily strength."

"I do not wish to be understood as favoring prize fighting or anything of that sort," said the coroner. "But boxing is a fine exercise and a useful one."

In his letter to the coroner Dr. O'Hanlon says:

"The president of the United States being an advocate of this form of exercise should of itself be an answer to any objection on the part of any narrow-minded, narrow-chested citizen who might object to instruction of this kind."

TWO MEN KILLED

Many Injured as a Result of Explosion in a Mine

PITTSBURG, Jan. 26.—Two men are dead and twenty others supposed to be dead as the result of three gas explosions in the Boxwell mine of the United Coal Co., Somerset county, last night and early today. The men were members of an investigating party that had entered the mine to make an inspection of suspicious gas traces before allowing the miners to go to work. The dead are:

SUIT, J. C. LOGAN
ANDREW STONCKI

Among the supposed dead is Assistant Supt. George Morris. Until early today signals were heard from the imprisoned men. At daylight, however, the signals ceased and it is believed that all the men had come under the influence of the deadly after-damp.

About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a small explosion occurred in the mine and it was decided to make a thorough inspection. This was in charge of Supt. Logan and twenty-one men volunteered for the dangerous work. They entered the mine shortly after five o'clock and while they were in the mine a second and third explosion occurred about 6 o'clock. These explosions tore down great quantities of coal, etc., completely preventing the men from reaching the outside. State Mine Inspector Lowther was seen at the scene and from the miners who had not been allowed to work rescuing shifts were quickly formed.

MIND A BLANK
Harvard Man is Held in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Edward Curtis Knox, said to be a divinity student at an Episcopal theological seminary at Cambridge, Mass., and also said to be the son of the late Rev. Charles Knox, who was an Episcopal rector at Lakewood, N. J., is being cared for at a police station until his relatives can be located.

Knox, who is about 23 years of age, told the police that he was unable to account for his presence in Chicago. All he remembered, he said, was that last Saturday he boarded a Grand Trunk railway train for Montreal. He said he was probably suffering from a nervous breakdown from overstudy.

A silver watch, which with an overcoat, a purse, some torn paper money, a telegram and other articles was found on the bank of the Chicago river, Knox identified as his own. The telegram read:

"I have today for Prescott. Understand everything. Telegram to Dearborn street station, Chicago, directions. Wonderful revelations."

The telegram was written on a regular blank, but not signed. The Grand Trunk railroad uses Dearborn street station as its Chicago terminus.

CONC. AMES
INTERESTED IN SURVEY OF MERRIMACK RIVER

The agitation for the improvement of the Merrimack river is endorsed by Congressman Ames of Lowell. When the hearing was recently held in this city on the question of building locks and a dam, Lowell business men were unable to attend, but the board of trade of that city forwarded a letter endorsing the project, and this was sent to the army engineers. Since then Congressman Ames has become interested in the matter, and he has arranged for a survey of the Merrimack channel between Haverhill and Lowell.

If the river is improved, Mr. Ames says that coal and other bulky freight could be shipped at lower rates. It is said that the railroad would oppose the projected improvements—Haverhill Gazette.

TEACH BOXING IN SCHOOLS
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—In accordance with a suggestion made by his physician, Dr. Philip F. O'Hanlon, Coroner Julius Harbinger announced that he has prepared a bill which will have introduced in the legislature providing for boxing instruction in the public schools. The bill reads: "The public schools in the city of New York shall have among their exercises set definite boxing studies for boys so as to develop bodily strength."

"I do not wish to be understood as favoring prize fighting or anything of that sort," said the coroner. "But boxing is a fine exercise and a useful one."

In his letter to the coroner Dr. O'Hanlon says:

"The president of the United States being an advocate of this form of exercise should of itself be an answer to any objection on the part of any narrow-minded, narrow-chested citizen who might object to instruction of this kind."

A Good Reason
Lowell People Can Tell You Why It is So.

Dean's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Lowell people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. R. Roy, living at 12 Common street, Lowell, Mass., says: "Dean's Kidney Pills did me a world of good. My back and kidneys troubled me for a long time and some days I was in such a bad way I could hardly get about. I had headaches and dizzy spells and was forced to pass the kidney secretions too frequently. When I saw Dean's Kidney Pills advertised I procured a box from E. W. Burgess & Co. drug store and began using them as directed. In two days the headaches ceased, the action of the kidneys became regular and my condition was improved in every way. I gladly give Dean's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all druggists. Price per box, $1.00. Dealer, E. W. Burgess & Co., Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.

JIMMY GARDNER

Knocked Out Opponent in First Round

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Jimmy Gardner of Lowell, Mass., picked a ripe fruit from the lemon tree last night at the Washington sporting club by stopping Harry Mansfield of England in just two minutes and twenty seconds of the first round. There was nothing to the bout but Gardner. The Briton never had a chance with him. He was outclassed from the start. Gardner, wearing home rights and lefts to the body before the knockout came in a manner which soon convinced the spectators that Mansfield was not due to stay very long before the Lowell cyclone.

Mansfield tried to do something in the way of earning his coin by making a few feeble attempts to swap punches with the Lowell man, but as Gardner's swats carried about twice as much strength and were directed at spots which were all tenderness on the Briton's body, Mansfield never really had a chance in any of the exchanges. Gardner, after landing heavily to body, took a swing to the face from Mansfield's right, but quickly took his right to the jaw when the referee broke the men, and Mansfield went to the floor for the full count. The blow was a short hook to the jaw and ended the bout then and there.

It going was over too quickly to show just what kind of form Gardner is in as he did not have to exert himself to win.

DEL MONT WON
SCHEENSTADT, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Al Delmont of Medford, Mass., outpointed Kid Dufresne of Lewiston, Me., here last night in a 10-round bout before the American A. A. Both men were in good condition, but Delmont had Dufresne worried throughout with stiff right and left jabs to the nose. Only in the last two rounds did the Lewiston boy show that he was any match for Delmont.

In the first round Dufresne slipped to his knees and the referee closed him by bleeding from the nose. The fight itself was slower than some of the preliminaries, but both boys showed clever work in covering and miffing.

The first eight rounds were all Delmont's and it looked as though he would put his man away in a little while, but Dufresne took his punishment gamely and this trip would put him in the fight than in the start of the two, and the men in attendance were of the unanimous opinion that he could have secured a knockout in a few more rounds, as he was the better ring general of the two, keeping a watchful eye at all stages of the smallest opening.

JEFFRIES TO FIGHT JOHNSON
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Jeffries will fight Jack Johnson at the end of his theatrical tour of the country, unless the big fellow changes his mind, which is not probable, said Ralph Pincus, manager of Jeffries' theatrical interests yesterday. Jeffries has told me he would take on Johnson if he could get into condition, said Pincus, and this trip would put him into condition if anything would, and he thinks, like anybody else, that he is getting better every day. Every week he will increase work until he becomes hardened.

YOUNG CLARK WON
SALEM, Jan. 26.—The Young Men's A. C. of Salem held forth last evening in a series of boxing exhibitions which was largely attended. In the main bout of eight rounds, Young Clark of Lawrence won over George Murray of Lynn getting the referee's decision after a tame bout.

In the semi-annual bout of six rounds, Tommie Kirk of Lynn and Young Carroll of Beverly hooked up, but were stopped in the fourth round, Carroll getting the award. In the curtain raiser, Young Daley of Boston stopped Young Schwabatz of Somerville in the second round in a four-round attempt.

BOWLING GAMES
After putting up an excellent game in the first round, the Peter's team of the Catholic league went to pieces, and the Alphas won the game by a margin of 50 pins. Boyle of the losing team had the high score, 121, and the high total, 205, went to Frank Warren of the winning team.

The Carlises and Chinewas of the Indian league had the same on the Crescent alleys last night, but when the Carlises were victorious inasmuch as they won the first two strings. The scores:

DIED OF BURNS
CHILD PROBABLY PLAYED WITH MATCHES

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—Frances L. Coffin, a 5-year-old daughter of Chas. F. Coffin of Quincy, died at the Quincy hospital yesterday from burns received at her home in Quincy avenue.

Yesterday Mrs. Coffin left the child while she went to a store nearby. A few moments later the driver of a laundry team called at the house and detected a odor of smoke. He called Mrs. Coffin next door, and they went in and found the child on the floor. Seizing a box from the Coffin's, they found the child, and then she, with the assistance of others, put out the flames.

Meantime wood in the kitchen ignited, starting a brisk fire. At this point John Lyons came to the house and put out the fire without an alarm being sounded.

No one knows how the accident occurred, but it is thought the child was playing with matches, as a number of burned ones were found on the floor.

Will Regulate the Stomach Making Indigestion Vanish

Does it ever occur to you how busy that little stomach of yours is? It actually only holds three pints, though in one year you force it to take in 2500 pounds of material, digest it and prepare it for assimilation to the blood. Do you wonder at the number of cases of indigestion and stomach trouble? You crowd it with steaks and pastry, irritate its juices with spices and acids and expect this little four-ounce mill to do its work.

Is there any wonder that your food passes undigested, or lays like a lump of lead in the stomach? That everything you eat turns to acid, stomach gas and stomach poison, putrefying the muscles and digestive canals, causing biliousness, headaches, dizziness and indigestion, heartburn, nervousness, constipation and other more dangerous symptoms?

Call your doctor what you will. Indigestion, Gastritis, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of Stomach, etc., you know the real name, the real disease is fermentation of the food you eat—a sour Stomach, which belches gas and eructs undigested food, causes a feeling of nausea and miserableness.

All these miseries vanish promptly when you stop this food fermentation. Take fifty cents to your pharmacist for a case of Pape's Diapiesin. It is a triangle, and five minutes later your stomach will do what a healthy stomach should—that is, turn everything you eat into bodily nourishment and without your realizing that you have a Stomach. One triangle will digest all the food you eat without the aid of the stomach, because it contains just the elements found in a good strong, healthy stomach.

SENATOR DICK HAS A BILL RELATIVE TO DISCARDED ARMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—An effort is being made to procure conclusive action by congress on Senator Dick's bill to permit the secretary of war to issue to camps of United Spanish War Veterans such discarded arms and ammunition as may be available for that purpose. A bill providing for this action has been passed by the senate and its friends expect it will be favorably considered by the house. In order to secure the use of these arms at least members of a camp of veteran must signify their intention to use them in drilling and target practice.

BOARD OF POLICE
WILL PASS ON HOTEL CASE TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the board of police will be held tonight, at which it is expected a decision in the New American house case will be rendered. There is also a gist of routine business to be acted upon by the members of the board as a result of the enforcement of the Sunday law.

Since the board began its crusade against small stores without licenses, keeping open on Sundays, the police board office has daily been besieged by owners of small stores in search of common victualer licenses.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The purchase of an oil painting of Abraham Lincoln to be hung in the Capitol in this city is proposed in a bill which has been introduced in the senate by Senator Carter of Montana.
